Bombing, Protests Fail to Slow Gambling

Mansfield's commercialized gambling operators don't care a hoot about opinions of the citizenry of the community.

This was obvious after a newsman's check-up of open, commercial gambling in the downtown area yesterday.

A News-Journal reporter found Max Mosberg's horse race bet booking establishment flourishing as usual in its long-used upstairs room at 12½ South Main street.

A goodly crowd was at Mosberg's and money was changing hands at a merry clip as bets were laid down and race results posted. The changing of hands by the money was largely a one-way deal, of course, with the bookie on the long end, usually, according to the reporter's observation.

In poolrooms, cigar stores, news stands and the like the punchboards, poker sheets and tip boards remained brazenly displayed on counters for all to see.

In some places there were suckers crowded around the punchboards, being deftly separated from their money. Most of the suckers have the appearance of men or boys whose funds don't come the easy way. They find it goes easily though, trying to beat punchboards rigged at the ratio of about 80 to 20—80 per cent to the house, that is.

So the commercialized gambling goes on, despite the events of the last eight or nine days, which include the bombing of a cafe and a protest directed at gambling and official laxity emanating from the pulpits of at least two churches.

The cafe bombing continues to be a complete mystery, so far as any solution of the case goes. Many theories have been advanced, however, including the belief that the bombing might have been brought on by some warring faction of the underworld, possibly hooked up with gambling.

Officials have discounted such stories, but so far have come up with no real facts to offset this belief.

The bomb was planted at the back door of the Crescent cafe on July 5 and its explosion injured two policemen and two firemen. The police and firemen had been summoned after discovery of the bomb and were attempting to douse the explosive with water when it let go.

2-Inch Rain, Cyclonic Wind Whip City; 6 Trees Felled

Lightning Hits Twice

Mansfield's heaviest rain storm in more than a year drenched the city with more than two inches of water late yesterday accompanied by near-cyclonic winds which uprooted six huge trees in a southwest to northeast sweep across town.

Enveloping the city in midnight-darkness shortly after 4 p. m., the storm's fury unleashed a deluge of water causing waves to roll above and across West Fourth street curbings. Most of the streets north of West Fifth were inundated.

A cold stroke of lightning during the height of the storm was reported to have cut a small hole in the slate and tile roof of the YMCA building on Park avenue west. No fire was caused.

Another lightning bolt struck the home of R. D. Sturtz, Fairfax avenue, where central station firemen extinguished a minor blaze in a fuse box at 4:32 p. m.

Richland county officials said the storm was general throughout the area, although only minor damage was reported caused to crops and roads.

500 PHONES OUT

LeRoy Wittemire, manager of the Mansfield Telephone company, reported damage to telephone lines as "very bad" today.

"Already this morning, 500 phones are reported out and more reports are coming in all the time," Wittemire said.

Despite the fact that fallen trees pulled down many utility lines throughout the city, R. D. Iden, distribution manager at the Ohio Public Service company, said service was not interrupted. Pole damage in the northern part of the county, however, was heavy, Iden said. OPS crews remained on the job today finishing up repairs started last night.

A major railroad crossing accident was averted during the height of the storm when a truck-trailer swerved off Route 39, between Mansfield and Shelby, to avoid hitting a B & O train.

The driver, George Carpenter jr., of Tiffin, escaped serious injury, although the truck ploughed into a ditch.

State police quoted Carpenter as saying he failed to hear a train whistle as he approached the intersection and ran off the road when he saw the train 100 yards away.

Traffic snarled throughout the city, as cars with headlights burning in the darkness, sloshed through hub-cap deep water.

E. W. Davis, street superintendent, said the 2.26 inches of rain unleashed on the city, flooded basements north of Fifth street and shut off the Park avenue east underpass to traffic for several hours.

Davis said the day street crew remained on with the night crews until 10:30 p. m. cutting up the fallen trees and removing them

STORM DID THIS—In the midst of yesterday's thunderstorm, George Carpenter jr., of Tiffin, driver of the two-trailer truck in top picture, approached the B and O railroad crossing between Mansfield and Shelby on State Route 39 but couldn't see an approaching train through the sheet of rain. At the last minute, he swerved into the ditch to avoid a collision. Carpenter was not injured. Allies Boost Air Supplies For Berlin

Expansion Hits At Blockade

BERLIN — (INS) — The United States and Britain disclosed plans today for a further stepping-up of the Western allies' aerial supply shuttle to Berlin in defiance of Russia's continued economic blockade.

After it was revealed that the American Air Force is improving Templehof airdrome to receive more planes daily, British Air Minister Sir Arthur Henderson announced that the British are ready for an all-out attempt to fly coal into Berlin.

The needs are estimated at 2,000 tons of coal daily.

The air minister said:

"All aerial transport possibilities will be studied, including the use of gliders."

Sir Arthur hedged on the question of whether the British are planning any aerial reinforcement of their troops now in Berlin.

He said merely:

"Planes will be used to supply food and coal to the German population."

The joint American and British steps to increase aerial deliveries followed a new Russian order further restricting Berlin travel.

The Soviets cancelled all German automobile passes from the city into Soviet-occupied eastern Germany.

Oldster, 105, Takes to Air

NILES, O. — (INS) — Patrick Quinn of Niles believes in the old adage that "you're only as young as you feel."

Quinn, who is 105, was surprised to see photographers, newsmen and a crowd of people as he sprylly walked down the ramp of an airliner in Washington.

Quinn flew from Youngstown to Washington Sunday to visit a son, Neil, of Silver Springs, Md., and now plans to fly to New York to visit with another son. The next stop on his itinerary is Ireland, where he plans a reunion with his sister, who is a mere 103.

Surveyor Swept Away In Sewer

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Firemen today abandoned their search for the body of a sewer contracting firm surveyor who fell into a sewer and was swept away in the fast-moving underground current.

Firemen said there was no doubt that the victim, Garland Sudderth, 50, was dead. Sudderth slipped and fell into the sewer yesterday afternoon after he had taken measurements of the sewer's depth. Firemen were called by a co-worker, Jack Brandt.

Wages Hiked By Council

COLUMBUS —(INS)— The last tattered shreds of threat of a mass resignation in the Columbus police and fire departments disappeared today as the city council approved pay increases.

The council voted last night to increase salaried employes $25 per month and day laborers 13 cents an hour, effective Friday. However, those who have had pay boosts since August, 1947, will not be affected by the new increase.

Arabs Leave Latrun Area

Israeli Forces Advance Rapidly

TEL AVIV — (INS) — Arab forces were reported evacuating the strategic Latrun area on Palestine's central front today, following a new major Israeli victory—capture of the Ras El Ain railway junction, 10 miles northwest of Tel Aviv.

Latrun stands at a road junction midway between Jewish-seized Ramle and Jerusalem.

The scene of much heavy fighting before Count Folke Bernadotte's four-week Holy Land truce, Latrun apparently has become untenable for King Abdullah's Arab legion. The Arabs were reported moving further north to regroup for an assault on Haifa.

An Israeli tank force is reported racing for Latrun, where little or no resistance is expected.

Unconfirmed reports said that Abdullah might be abandoning his bid for conquest of Jerusalem by artillery fire because of mounting United Nations objections.

Ras El Ain is not only an important railway junction but the source of Jerusalem's water supply.

Israeli troops took it in a fierce early morning assault while Arab planes battered Tel Aviv in one of the most severe aerial assaults of the Palestine war.

Mansfielders were paying slightly more for most meats in local butcher shops today than were consumers in other parts of the nation.

A survey by the News-Journal of six Mansfield meat markets indicated prices here averaged higher than in 10 scattered cities throughout the nation surveyed by United Press.

The price picture in Mansfield and the ten other cities follows:

	Mansfield	10 Other Cities
T-Bone Steak	$1.06	$1.07
Round Steak	.98	.98
Pork Chops	.83	.79
Prime Beef	.85	.79
Lamb Chops	.06	1.05
Ham	.99	.72
Spare Ribs	.59	.55

One Mansfield retailer said that he had no lamb chops on hand because they were "too expensive." Several said they did not carry spare ribs for the same reason.

Of the 10 cities checked by United Press, Miami, Fla., reported the highest prices and Kansas City, a large livestock and meat packing center, was second.

In Miami, lamb chops were selling for $1.50 a pound, the highest price uncovered in the survey. The price had risen 25 cents in the last two weeks, and accounted for much of the average increase on lamb chops.

T-bone steak was selling for $1.25 at Miami and $1.20 at Kansas City. Lamb chops at Kansas City were selling for $1.39 a pound.

Other cities included in the survey were New York, Washington, Atlanta, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Omaha, Denver and Dallas.

Bernadotte Urges Intervention

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(U.P.)—Count Folke Bernadotte, the Palestine mediator, called on the United Nations security council today for "prompt and effective intervention" in the Holy Land. Bernadotte's appeal appeared to pave the way for the United States and Great Britain to "order" an immediate stop to the Palestine war.

Fast Train Misses Once More

The fourth near-serious accident at the East Fourth Pennsylvania crossing in the past eight days occurred last night when three Mansfielders were trapped inside the gates, only inches away from the path of a speeding eastbound passenger train.

Today, conflicting stories, alternately laying the blame on the motorist and on the crossing watchman, were told.

Railroad officials asserted they did not consider last night's incident "a legitimate case" of negligence by their employe. But Mrs. A. T. Corey, 476 Westview boulevard, told the News-Journal a story of a harrowing experience she, her husband, and son, William Dormaier, 19, had at the crossing about 9 p. m.

"My husband, who was driving, had just said that the crossing was a bad one, when he looked out and saw the 9:10 flier just beyond Fifth street. The train was coming fast and we were on the first track," Mrs. Corey related.

CAR STALLS

"My husband slammed on the brakes and stalled the car. By that time the train was almost at the crossing. Then the gates came down behind us, scraping the top and rear of the car.

"My son and I jumped out of the car and tried to push it back off the tracks, but it would not move. The gates were holding it. By that time the train was whizzing past the front of our car only inches from us.

"I was never so scared in my life! I'm still shaky from it.

"My husband and son both said today they would use the subway on Park avenue west until the crossing is safer. They both work at Westinghouse."

USED BY 7,500

The crossing, one of the busiest in the city, is used by approximately 7,500 Westinghouse workers for the three day and night shifts.

The Coreys' experience at the crossing was reported to police at 9:24 p. m. yesterday.

Both George F. Prie, trainmaster of the Pennsylvania, and Curtis Koozer, track supervisor, discounted the seriousness of the incident.

"As I get the story from the crossing watchman, H. B. Ams-

City Warns Railroad

Action By State Likely To Be Asked

Official Mansfield moved today to prevent a recurrence of another near-accident at the East Fourth street Pennsylvania railroad crossing.

Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison said he had written J. D. Fuchs, Pittsburgh, eastern district supervisor of the railroad, requesting "cooperation" to see that railroad crossings equipped with gates are operated by responsible persons.

"If the dangerous situation is not immediately remedied," Garrison said, "I plan to contact the state public utility commission to see what can be done."

A fast train passed the crossing Sunday morning while the safety gate was up. Only by quick action were police able to halt a car heading for the crossing.

Two other narrow escapes occurred last week when cars just missed being struck by trains because the gates were not lowered.

City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch said "if property or personal injury is the result of an incident of this nature, the railroad and the watchman would be liable under the criminal negligence provision of the state law."

The watchman could be sent to jail and the railroad made to pay a stiff fine, he added. Persons injured also could sue for damages under civil law.

Civil Rights Plank Angers Dixie Leaders

PHILADELPHIA—(INS)—It's Truman and Barkley in the Democratic convention today as the Dixie revolt threatens to project a fourth party into November's race for the White House.

President Truman's first ballot nomination is assured despite the devastating attack of twelve Southern delegations against his civil rights program. Members of nine delegations plan to walk out of the convention as soon as Truman is nominated.

Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky is the convention's choice for the vice presidential nomination.

Barkley is acceptable to the President.

Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath announced that he had direct word from the White House that the President would be "most happy" to have Barkley as his running-mate.

Before McGrath spoke, it was apparent that Barkley could win unless the President directly opposed him. Most of the big states were in Barkley's corner and the Kentuckian also had sweeping support in the South and West.

The veteran senator scored a smash hit as "keynoter" of the convention last night. He drew frequent applause by attacks on GOP policies. The demonstration made it easy to note that he was the convention's choice.

Early today, the President reportedly telephoned Barkley urging him to accept second place on the Truman ticket. Barkley has not given a final answer.

The President was slow in approving Barkley. Some of his advisers desired a younger man, rather than the 70-year-old Kentuckian. But Barkley gained the support of New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Michigan, and a score of other delegations.

Mr. Truman, already in the throes of a serious southern revolt, was faced with a second convention battle over his running-mate if he turned down the Kentuckian. Faced with this fact, he gave the "green light" to Barkley's nomination.

FIGHT PROGRAM

Southerners carried their fight against President Truman's civil rights program to the full Democratic resolutions committee today after meeting defeat by the northern "liberals."

The bitter dispute, which threatens to split the Democratic party in two, was heightened by the action of the 18-member drafting subcommittee. This group rejected the southerners' plea for a states' rights plank in the Democratic platform and then strengthened the provision pledging a fight against Negro discrimination.

The south was defeated by a vote of 10 to 7 on a plank earlier approved by a special blue-ribbon, seven-member subcommittee calling for federal adherence to the rights of states to administer their own affairs.

This blow was followed by a 10 to 4 vote in which the civil rights plank adopted by the seven-member group was strengthened.

Instead of the 1944 convention plank, which proved acceptable four years ago to the Dixie representatives, the 18-member subcommittee reportedly took a stand for anti-poll tax, anti-lynching, anti-discrimination and fair employment legislation.

As a concession to the South, however, these key points in the President's civil rights program were not mentioned specifically by name.

Ohio Cheers Barkley at Last Minute

Delegates Leap On Bandwagon

By DICK MALOY

(Special to The News-Journal)

PHILADELPHIA — Sen. Alben W. Barkley became the strongest contender for the vice-presidential nomination last night but for lack of instructions the Ohio delegation almost missed the bandwagon.

After Barkley's keynote speech touched off the first demonstration of this Democratic National convention the Ohio delegation stood around uncertainly for almost half an hour before getting in on the shouting.

Ohio Delegation Chairman Ray Miller had left the floor midway in Barkley's talk and the uninstructed Buckeye delegates hesitated to take part in the demonstration without his okay. About half of the delegates favored joining in the serpentine parade which would thru the floor but they were restrained by Delegate Andrew Durban from Lima.

Outline of Sen. Barkley's keynote address is given on Page 16 in today's News-Journal.

Then Durban conferred with favorite son W. A. Julian who evidently gave him the green light for he proceeded to grasp the Ohio placard and push his way thru the milling mob in front of the speakers stand and join standard bearers from a dozen other states.

During the keynote talk the Ohioans, like the entire assemblage, siezed on Barkley's blast against the GOP as an opportunity to let off pent-up steam.

For the first time in this convention those cheers seemed to dispel the gloom which has hung over this great hall.

Water Bill Deadline Near

Only two more days remain for east side residents to pay six-month water and sewer bills without a 10 percent penalty, Fred E. Lingafelter, secretary of the water department, reminded today.

"As of Saturday noon," he said, "we had collected $24,285 of the $42,531 of the six-month domestic and one-month commercial water bills. The deadline for commercial accounts was July 10."

He added that $7,195 of the $14,501 due in six-month sewer bills was paid by noon Saturday. He requested that all persons paying bills should bring the bill stub with them or mail it in with their check. The deadline is 4 p. m., Thursday.

Mansfield Hospital Graduate Wed In Little White Church

A PRETTY WEDDING was solemnized June 27th in the Little White church at Edison where Miss Betty Gieger became the bride of Forest Davault. Miss Gieger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gieger of Mt. Gilead and Mr. Davault is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davault of Jeromesville.

The Rev. Orland Rudy officiated for the double ring ceremony which was performed before a setting of beauty baskets of white lillies, blue delphinium and pale roses. Four seven-branch candelabra lighted the scene.

Beginning at 3 o'clock a program of music was presented by Mrs. L. O. Franks, pianist, and Mrs. Harold Gieger, sister-in-law of the bride, soloist. During the ceremony Mrs. Franks played "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ice blue slipper satin gown, fashioned with a fitted bodice. It had an off-the-shoulder effect with a yoke of blue illusion. The full skirt ended in a train. The bride's veil was of blue illusion caught with clusters of the orange blossoms. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift from the groom, and carried a white Bible mounted with a white orchid to which was attached streamers of white ribbon entwined with stephanotis.

The bride's only attendant was the maid of honor, Miss Betty Caldwell, friend and roommate of the bride while in nurses's training. Her gown was of delicate blue marquisette with fitted bodice. It was off-the-shoulder effect. She wore mitts and a halo of matching blue net. The maid of honor carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations.

Karen Ness, the flower girl, cousin of the bride, wore a long blue organdy gown over blue satin. She too wore matching mitts and a halo of blue net. She carried a basket of pink sweetpeas.

The ring bearer, Max Ness, was dressed in a white suit and carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

The best man was Gerald Davault, brother of the bride groom, and ushers were Harold Gieger, brother of the bride and Stanley McFarlin, friend of the couple.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gieger wore a dress of blue crepe with navy accessories and a corsage of pink gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of pink linen with white accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was covered with a white linen cloth Pink tapers in crystal holders and pink and white snapdragons in maching crystal bowls carried out the color scheme for the reception table The topping for the tiered wedding cake was wedding bells and love birds. Hostesses for the reception were Miss Doris Kindinger, Miss June Carl, and Miss Bonnie Smith.

For going away the bride wore a pink linen dress with navy accessories. She used her orchid for a corsage.

On their return from an eastern wedding trip the Davaults will be at home at 77 Marion avenue.

Mrs. Davault is a graduate of Jeromesville high school and Mansfield General Hospital School of Nursing and is employed as a registered nurse at the hospital. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Jeromesville high school and spent 22 months in the U. S. Navy. In the fall he will continue his studies at Ohio Northern university where he is a member of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

Colony Club Has Breakfast Bridge Party

Mrs. W. A. Calhoun, Park avenue west road, entertained 40 members and a guest of the Colony Club last week at a breakfast bridge.

The guest at the meeting was Mrs. Georgé Wentz of Cleveland. Two new members were greeted by the club. They are Mrs. Roy P. Beer and Mrs. Leonard M Riley.

Bridge prizes were presented to the following high scorers: Mrs. C. R. Deisler, Mrs. Donald Wetmore, Mrs. Charles Birdsong and Mrs. A. M. Perkins.

The next regular meeting of the club will be at the Richland Recreation Center July 22. Luncheon will be served first and during the afternoon Mrs. Albert Netting, a guest, will speak to the group about her button collection. She will illustrate her talk.

The committee serving for the next meeting includes the same members who served for this week's session. Mrs. John Moore is chairman and she is assisted by Mrs. Robert Lynch, Mrs. Harold Robson, Mrs. R. O. Snyder, Mrs. Calhoun and Mrs. Charles Wolfe.

The Needlecraft and Book Review sections of the club will motor to Old Homestead Beach, Huron, July 14 for a day's outing.

Dinner Given For Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Schill, 191 Marlow road, entertained recently with a smorgasbord dinner honoring their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Daryle Keith Mong, who were married June 30. Mrs. Clifford Heaton was the associate hostess.

Nine couples were present and after dinner cards were the diversion of the evening. Bridge prizes were awarded to Mrs. Dwain Beal and Mrs. Jay Garrison.

Pastel colored sweetpeas and roses centered the serving table.

The guests gave the honored couple an electric toaster.

Mrs. Mong is the former Miss Marilyn Jeanne Schill

National League Should Win All-Star Game

Cuff Stuff

FRITZ HOWELL of the APee comes along with the most interesting from the Columbus Open . . . But let Fritz tell it:

"Along with all the birdie-eagle shooting there were some other light moments. On the 70th hole, Melvin (Chick) Harbert barely got his ball on the par 4 green with his second shot, and one of the customers who had paid $2.50 to see the stars perform declared to one and all:

"I could do better than that myself!"

Harbert solemnly took a ball from his bag, placed it on the ground, handed the club to the spectator and said:

"I think you can, too Have a try at it."

The spectator calmly landed the ball on the green where it just trickled by the cup.

"I knew you could do it," Harbert said. "I'd like to have you teach me that shot sometime."

BILLY ROCHE, one of the all time greats of the pro fight game as a manager, referee and promoter, does not think much of the recent vintage heavyweight boxers. . . . Now 80, Billy has seen 'em all and feels that John L. Sullivan was the best of lot. . . . He rates Joe Louis eighth . . . About the Bomber, Roche says "Louis has as fast a pair of hands as ever swung from a heavyweight's shoulders. But he couldn't take it. Joe had a bad jaw and was highly susceptible about the temples. His stance was poor He was easily knocked down and in the first Schmeling fight he showed he didn't like the rough going. His ability was magnified by the lack of real competition" . . . American Squad Shot By Injuries

By JOE REICHLER

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The National league had everything to lose and little to gain today as it squared off against its American league rival in the 15th annual all-star baseball game.

A victory over the battered and undermanned American league outfit is imperative or the Nationals will lose a load of prestige This is the one the senior circuitmen, who have suffered 10 pastings in 14 outings must win

The general feeling around the crowded hotel lobbies here is 'If the National leaguers don't win this one, they'll never win."

The odds have dropped from the American league favorite at 11-20 to almost even money.

The American leaguers, seeking their third straight, were minus their "Big Four" consisting of sluggers Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio and ace pitchers Hal Newhouser and Bob Feller. In addition, George Kell, selected as the league's No 1 third baseman, was stricken as a starter.

RASCHI OR PAGE

Tommy Henrich of New York and Hoot Evers of Detroit were selected by manager Bucky Harris to replace his two sterling outfielders. Harris was undecided between Vic Raschi or Joe Page as his starting pitcher

Originally Newhouser, the Detroit Tigers' great lefthander, was slated to get the starting nod. Hal, however, reported he was suffering from bursitis and could not pitch Feller, although hale and hearty, bowed out and was replaced by Joe Dobson of Boston Kell's starting place was given to Ken Keltner of the Cleveland Indians.

The biggest blow suffered by the American leaguers was the loss of Williams The Red Sox power hitter has a torn cartilage on his left side and will not see action.

DiMaggio has been troubled by a swollen ankle suffered in last Friday's game

The other American league players are in good shape It must be pointed out, however, that six of the eight pitchers on the American league staff, worked last Sunday.

ONE SORE SHOULDER

In sharp contrast to the American league situation, Leo Durocher's National leaguers, with the exception of Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals, are in fine shape. Schoendienst has a sore shoulder.

The clouds, which hung so heavily over the "dream game" yesterday, were somewhat diminished today. Players' representative Dixie Walker said the players themselves were going to take action against anyone purposely evading all-star participation and Commissioner A. B Chandler declared that "in the future the player selected to the all-star teams will be there" Players receive no extra pay for participating, the proceeds going to a players' pension fund.

It is almost a certainty that Harris will pitch both Raschi and Page of his own team Bob Lemon, the brilliant Cleveland righthander probably will pitch the middle three innings.

Righthander Ralph Branca (10-6) will open for the National league

ALL-STAR TEAMS—Four of the 16 players selected by fans' balloting will be unable to appear in the All-Star starting lineup today because of injuries. Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio and George Kell of the American league and Eddie Stanky of the Nationals were forced to beg off although DiMaggio, who has a swollen knee, may appear in the game as a pinch-hitter.

2 Undefeated Junior Teams Play Tonight

One of the undefeated teams in the Hot Stove Major league is sure to fall today when Ohio Sport Center and Sons of Herman Colts battle at Liberty park. Both have won two games against no defeats.

The other game scheduled in the league will bring together K of C and Yuncker's both of which have failed to win in three starts.

All games in the junior and elementary leagues were to have been played today despite damp fields Rain halted the Junior league yesterday.

In the elementary league yesterday Brinkerhoff drubbed Bushnell 15-3. Newman edged Grubaugh 16-15, and Carpenter trimmed Woodland, 15-13.

Seven Major League Teams In Exhibitions

NEW YORK—(AP)— The annual all-star game usually means three days off for players not selected for either the National or American league squads but that isn't the case this year

Yesterday, the first of the three idle days for big league clubs, saw seven major league teams engage in exhibition games.

With the exception of a game between the St. Louis Browns and the Philadelphia Phillies at Cooperstown, N. Y., all of the contests took place at night

At Cooperstown, the Browns won a battle of homers from the Phils, 7-5. The Browns socked five round-trippers, the Phils two. Andy Anderson hit two, and Ed Pellagrini, Don Lund and Pitcher Bryan Stephens one apiece for the Browns while Del Ennis and Gran Hamner hit one each for the Phils

DODGERS

The Brooklyn Dodgers were trounced, 15-8, by their Montreal International league farm hands before 17,809 booing fans at Montreal. Roy Campanella and Carl Furillo homered for the Dodgers Fans objected when Jackie Robinson was benched early in the game

Pittsburgh's Pirates also were defeated, 5-1, by their Indianapolis farm club of the American Association at Indianapolis. Former major leaguers Jim Walsh and Jack Hallett limited the Pirates to seven hits

At Buffalo, N Y, the New York Giants, led by Clint Hartung and Les Layton who hit homers, downed the Buffalo Bisons of the International league, 8-3. Mort Cooper, attempting a comeback, and Paul Erickson held the minor leaguers to five hits.

The Philadelphia Athletics behind the four-hit pitching of Bob Savage, Charley Harris and Lec McCrabb, blanked the Wilmington interstate league Blue Rocks, 3-0 at Wilmington, Del.

Cleveland's American league league-leading Indians trounced their Dayon Class A Central league farm team, 16-4 at Dayton, Ohio.

Ike Williams Wins TKO From Ex-Champion Jack

By JACK CUDDY

PHILADELPHIA — (UP) — Lightweight Champion Ike Williams planned a vacation in Europe today as a self-reward for giving challenger Beau Jack the worst beating of his career by stopping him in the sixth round.

Beau, the ex-champion who suffered a technical knockout at 33 seconds of the sixth at Shibe park last night, decided to return to the welter weight division He was convinced that paring down to the lightweights limit of 135 pounds robbed him of stamina

Until Beau ran out of current last night he electrified 12,925 fans by fighting in the hell-for-leather style that enabled him twice in the past to win New York State's version of the lightweight crown. He won the first three rounds.

After that, the bull-shouldered little Negro from Augusta, Ga., faded until he was battered into helplessness on the ropes in a neutral corner in the sixth round.

Referee Charley Daggert stopped the bout. He might have intervened a few seconds earlier, when the usually dead-panned Williams implored him with gestures to step in.

Ike was reluctant to continue punishing the nearly unconscious challenger, who apparently could not fall to the canvas because the corner ropes held him up.

Many years ago, Heavyweight Frankie Campbell died after receiving a head battering under similar circumstances from Maxie Baer in a San Francisco ring.

Only once before in his eight-year career had Beau Jack failed to last the scheduled time And that time he had a good excuse. An injured leg collapsed in his first bout with Tony Janiro at New York in February, 1947. Janiro was awarded a technical knockout victory in the fourth round. Beau beat Janiro in a return bout at Washington last May.

Last night each principal weighed 134 pounds, one under the lightweight limit. It was the first time in three years that Beau had attempted to pare down to 135.

Eleven Speedy Gals Qualify For Olympics

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — (UP) — Eleven speedy and muscular girls were picked today for the U. S. Olympic Women's track and field team and were rushed off to New York to get ready to sail tomorrow.

The talented selectees were the cream of a 74-girl crop which vied here yesterday in final trials that saw two performances better than national AAU records.

Dorothy Dodson of Chicago topped the entire field by qualifying to compete in three events—the discus, the shotput, and the javelin It was in the latter event that she gave her greatest performances, hurling the spear 140 feet, 4 inches, more than five feet better than the 16-year-old record held by Babe Didrickson Zaharias

WON'T CONSIDER

The other mark was bettered by Alice Coachman of Albany, Ga., who cleared 5 feet, 4¾ inches in the high jump. Neither mark will stand as a record, however, because the trials were not considered AAU championship events.

Mrs Frances Kaszubski of North Olmsted, O., was the only entrant to win two events in the trials Duplicating her sweep in the A.A.U. championships last week at Grand Rapids, she won the 8-pound shot put with a toss of 38 feet, 8¼ inches, and the discus with a heave of 122 feet, 6½ inches.

Appoint Backfield Coach at Toledo

TOLEDO —(INS)— Dave Connelly, athletic director of Toledo university announced today that John Pattee former star gridder at Brown university, has been selected backfield coach of the Toledo eleven

Neal Stahley, new head football coach at the school, named Pattee as one of his assistants shortly after he selected Jim Deangelis, veteran of Yale university, as line mentor.

Rusty Payne Wins

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — Rusty Payne, 182, a native of San Diego, who packs dynamite in both hands, scored a technical knockout over Erv Sarlin, 186, Pittsburgh, in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-round bout at Zivic arena last night.

Fancy Field Fires In Ohio Amateur

By FRITZ HOWELL, Ohio AP Sports Editor

DAYTON—(One of the fanciest fields in the fixture's 42-year history went into the second 18-hole round of the Ohio Amateur golf championship tourney today with a two-fold aim.

The top aim of most of the 93 hopefuls, survivors of 161 who opened the annual meet yesterday, was to get into the match play bracket of 64 which starts on a man-to-man basis tomorrow.

Secondary goal was to head off 19-year-old Jack Thompson of Youngstown in the race for the qualifying medal. Jack, whose father won the Ohio Open championsip just 20 years ago over this same course—Miami Valley Country club—canned a hole in one on the 145-yard fourth hole yesterday and then came home in 69 strokes, two under even figures. That gave him a one-stroke edge over 27-year-old Howard Saunders of Gallipolis, former Ohio State varsity player.

Right behind Saunders eight players were bunched in even par 71's and there was plenty of talent in that bracket.

FIVE TIME CHAMP

Included were Bob Servis, five-time champion from Dayton who is defending the crown; Ed Preisler of Cleveland, the 1946 champion; Alan Whaling, the Cincinnati amateur champ; Bob Myers of Granville, former state junior title winner, Bill Picard, 16-year-old South Carolina high school champion, and son of Henry Picard, pro at the Cleveland Canterbury club; Ralph Stuntcback of Bellefontaine, and Ohio State Freshmen Bob Rankin of Zanesville and Tom Nieporte of Cincinnati.

First round scores of other hotshots seeking match play berths were Steve Pipoly, 1947 medalist from Youngstown, 73; Tom Ruddy, 1946-runner-up for the title from Toledo, 72; Jack Futerer of Granville who last year ousted defending champion Preisler in match play, 73, Chick Hendrickson of Sandusky, 1946 National Caddy Champion, 77; Don Shock of Dayton, Ohio State varsity player, 75, Maurice McCarthy of Cincinnati, three-time amateur champ, who got in with 78, highest score to qualify for today's round; Lt. Jack Mann of Toledo, State Public links semi-finalists, 73; Tom Whiteway, the always close Clevelander, 72, Harold Paddock, semi-finalist in the Western amateur, from Aurora, 73; Max McConnell of Coshocton, runner-up last year to Servis 76, and Danny Carmichael of Columbus, former Princeton Star, 74.

MAJOR CASUALTY

Glenn Bishop of Cleveland, the 1930 champion, was the major casualty with a chance-ending 80.

The 64 qualifiers play the first match play round over 18 holes tomorrow, two rounds Thursday and Friday, and the two finalists travel the 36-hole route Saturday.

Two of Mansfield's four entrants qualified for today's play. Al Hager led the contingent with 41-33—74 while Dale Rose fired a 37-40—77 Carl Wiseman, 39-40—79 and Vic Salter, 39-41—80 were eliminated

Hager's 33 on the par 36 back nine was the best score registered on that part of the course all day. Several qualifiers shot 33 over the par 35 first nine.

T and E Tavern Nine At Ontario Today

Mansfield T and E Tavern will make another try for its eighth victory of the season in a game with the Ontario Merchants today

The contest is scheduled to get under way at 5:45 p. m on the Ontario diamond.

Bob Kennedy Takes Crack At Mound Job

DAYTON—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians are trying again to make an outfielder into a pitcher.

Encouraged by the results of the conversion job of Bob Lemon, the Indians last night used Outfielder Bob Kennedy on the mound against their Dayton farm club of the Central league, in an exhibition game. Lemon, ace Tribe hurler, is a former outfielder.

The Indians beat Dayton 16-4, with Kennedy pitching four innings. He gave up four hits and one run, and struck out two men.

Three Indians hit circuit blows in the game. Johnny Berardino hit a homer in the third with one on, Walt Judnich hit one in the fourth with two on, and Allie Clark hit for a round-tripper in the sixth with the bases empty.

Writer Denounces Bobby Feller

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK Today's All Star baseball game at St Louis should be set up as a monument to the selfishness and the thoughtlessness of major leaguers

The game should go into the records as the one played strictly for the players who refused to participate and a big statute should be erected to Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians and other ball players of his breed

The statue should show a ball player with one hand outstretched for money and the other hand at the throat of a figure which would be labelled good-will for baseball, integrity and fair play

The All-star game is played for the benefit of the players' pension fund and therefore is played for the ball players themselves Feller's refusal to pitch in the game means only that he is disinterested in any ball game for players less fortunate than he is

Feller's trouble is that he is so busy gathering nickels and pennies from outside interests that he no longer is a capable pitcher

A few weeks ago he announced that he was foregoing all the outside activities in the interest of trying to do the Indians some good

He did this under pressure. Moreover he still hasn't done the Indians any good They are the main contenders for the American league pennant without his help

Bucky Harris manager of the American League All-Stars, has seldom in his baseball life let go with the volley he levelled at Feller when he found out the Cleveland pitcher had ducked the All-star game

Harris was bitterly contemptuous and pulled no punches about the matter

Feller simply took a duck on the All-star game in keeping with the example set by a few other players in the past and all were of his stripe

Yet none was ever quite so utterly brazen about it after being picked to play with one of the clubs He had no excuse and offered none In the past players at least begged off because of a bad back or a sprained pinkie

Feller just decided to spend a few days with his outside business interests

Bill Veeck owner of the Cleveland club, and Lou Boudreau the manager, should suspend Feller for the rest of the season on general principles

Rain Big Winner In Mansfield Softball Schedule

Komito's 9 Goes After Fifth Win

Rain wiped out everything on the Mansfield softball schedule yesterday as two Park league, one Church league and two exhibition games bowed out to Jupe Pluvius.

Gorman - Rupp, scheduled to meet the tough Italian-American club from Sandusky, cancelled the game in mid-afternoon when it became apparent that the field would be too wet for play.

Other exhibition game washed out was the Ohio Sport Center-Hayesville affair scheduled at Hayesville.

On the league dockets were Park league games pairing Gorman-Rupp Junior with Prospect park, and North Lake with Johns Park. St. Paul's was ticketed to meet St. Matthews in a postponed Church league tilt.

★

Today's league play finds Komito's Clothes, undefeated in four league starts, meeting Penn Auto at Prospect park in the only Independent league game.

Two girls games slated are Ohio Brass vs. Lumbermens at Liberty park and Tappan Stove vs. Westinghouse at John Todd park.

Komito's had a close call in its first game with the Penn boys, scratching out a 4-3 victory. Penn has won two of three.

Ohio Brass scored one of its four league wins over Lumbermens, 14-9, in an early season game. Ohio Brass is one of the four undefeated teams in the city leagues.

★

Gorman-Rupp will go to Sandusky tonight for an exhibition game with Amburn's Night club. Gorman-Rupp will have an off day tomorrow but will travel to Willard Thursday night and entertain Lakewood on Friday.

Taverns After 'A' Loop Lead

Last round before the two-week mid-summer layoff will be played in the News-Journal "A" golf league today at Possum Run.

Blue Goose Tavern, leaders for most of the first half and tied for the top spot now, will attempt to jump into the league lead in its match with Penn Auto-Sporting Goods.

Blue Goose has the easiest road of the three teams tied for the lead since it has a carry-over point for medal score from last week. The Taverns will match medal with Smokehouse which is without its most consistent firer, Al Hager. Hager is in Dayton playing in the Ohio Amateur.

Other pairings today will send Smokehouse against Flexible Conveyor, Myers Supply against PD's Bar and Orr Typewriter against Ideal Billiards.

TRYING 'EM ON—Players from the Woodland team of the Hot Stove Elementary league were issued shirts and caps yesterday purchased for them by Liederkranz. Bob Alger, left, is helped into his shirt by Stan Kamen, City Recreation director, while Oliver "Pudge" Hinkel looks over his new suit. All league teams have picked a name from major league teams.—(N-J photo)

Players Suggest Fine For Buddies Skipping Contest

ST. LOUIS—(INS)—Major league ball players are going to find some way of penalizing those of their buddies who win places in the annual All-Star game, but for one reason or another don't show up.

Dixie Walker of the Pittsburgh Pirates, representing all National league players, and Fred Hutchinson of the Detroit Tigers, representing All American league players, reported this today after thrashing out the problem with the Major league executive council in St. Louis yesterday.

Walker and Hutchinson were emphatic that "we have nobody specifically in mind."

FROM REDS' LETTER

Walker's bringing the matter up at the meeting stemmed from a letter he received from the Cincinnati Reds' players. The letter pointed out that the game is held for the benefit of the players' own pension fund.

Walker and Hutchinson said that players of several other clubs have come out in support of the Redlegs' thesis.

The player representatives also requested better lighting in the St. Louis and Philadelphia ball parks and adherence by the owners to an agreement not to hold doubleheaders the day after a night game.

Milwaukee Grabs Ninth Win In Row

(By Associated Press)

Milwaukee kept its victory string intact last night by beating Columbus 4 to 2 and move within 2½ games of catching Indianapolis, American association leader.

In the league's only game, the Brewers ticked off their ninth straight triumph behind Southpaw Glenn Elliott's seven hitter.

Milwaukee piled up three runs in the third on singles by Damon Phillips, Paul Burris, Gene Markland and Al Roberge. Mike Natison slammed his 19th homer with a mat on base in the fourth for Columbus' two runs.

Ball Delegates

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Sixty-four delegates from throughout the country are expected to be on hand in Cleveland tomorrow for a meeting of the National Amateur Baseball federation.

Takes New Job

AKRON—(AP)—Felix Latona, assistant football coach at Akron Central high school and former Akron University player, today reported he has accepted a position as grid pilot of Royal Oak, (Mich.) high school.

Corum Covers Convention

By BILL CORUM

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — The favorite, Mr. Truman, looks a little sore going to the post.

After putting lead in his shoes, giving him a slow powder, and whispering to the jockey to fall off in the starting gate, Trainer Jimmy Roosevelt says he fully expects Mr. Truman to run the race of his life.

Nobody can say that Jimmy hasn't been helpful—to the Republicans.

There've been so many scratches in this race (Eisenhower, Douglas, et al.) you'd think Citation was running instead of Dewey.

It's a dark cloud that hasn't a silver lining somewhere. At least, Hank Wallace's tall corn is missing.

At the last Democratic convention, Happy Chandler was running for vice-president and Bob Hannegan helped to elect one. Now Chandler is the high commissioner of baseball and Hannegan is president of the St. Louis Cardinals.

If organized baseball is going to be the old folks home for politicians without portfolio, it probably will have to expand considerably in the near future.

Still, there's always a spot for a good man. Who knows but that one of these days, Mr. Truman will buy the Browns?

★

Don't take the dateline "Philadelphia" over today's column too seriously. I covered Senator Barkley's keynote address and the Williams-Beau Jack lightweight championship fight in Philadelphia before a television set in an air-cooled room in Manhattan.

If Beau Jack doesn't quit fighting of his own accord now, our boxing commissions should take a hand and see that he quits perforce. Beau has a real fighting heart and the determination to give his best always.

He did it again last night. However, at his best, he probably would have been outmatched

New York City Stamp Due

A new five-cent airmail stamp will be issued July 31 through the New York City post office, Curtis Ford, acting postmaster, announced today. The red stamp will commemorate the golden anniversary of the City of New York.

The central design will show the five New York City boroughs on a dark background. Around this design is a ring bearing the inscription, "1898 The City of New York 1948 Golden Anniversary," in dark Roman printing. Circling the ring are the pictures of seven modern airplanes.

Collectors may obtain first-day cancellations by sending not more than 10 addressed envelopes to the postmaster in New York City, enclosing a postal note or money order to cover the cos of the stamps to be affixed. The envelope to the postmaster should be endorsed, "First Day Covers."

The Mansfield post office expects to receive its supply of the stamps a week to 10 days after they are issued.

IS UNWANTED HAIR HIDING YOUR NATURAL BEAUTY AND CHARM?

Superfluous hair causes so much unhappiness that it changes the mental outlook of those that have it—gives them a dark outlook on life—changes them from a carefree person to a nervous, shy person, because they are always trying to hide their face from the people that they meet. No matter how well you are dressed, or how you apply your make up, you cannot keep superfluous hair from being seen. No case is too far advanced, if you tweeze, shave, or use other methods to remove the hair temporarily, you owe it to yourself, your family and friends to have the hair permanently removed by electrolysis, the only method endorsed by physicians everywhere.

All work is done by appointment, from 1:30 to 9 p.m. Phone 5325 during these hours for appointment or write for free information. There is no charge for private consultation. I use the Brantronic Short Wave system on the legs and arms and it removes around 1,000 hair per hour. On the face, I use the Kreeten needle machine for coarse hairs, and it removes around 120 hairs per hour. The charge for either machine is $5 per hour. Work done for men and women.

Why go through life being unhappy because you have superfluous hair when you can have it permanently removed?

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ECA Seeks to Back Up U. S. Investments

Hoffman Creates Currency Fund

WASHINGTON — (INS) — European recovery moved a notch closer to realization today as the economic cooperation administration made its first attempt to solve currency problems in the Marshall plan countries.

ECA administrator Paul G. Hoffman stepped into Europe's complicated financial picture with a plan to guarantee American investors the opportunity of converting foreign money into American dollars.

Hoffman established a 290 million dollar currency convertibility fund which, officials said, would go a long way toward increasing the flow of investment capital into Europe.

Until now, an American investing in Europe spent American dollars and received in return the peculiar currency of the area in which he invested.

The catch came in converting the money back to American dollars. The Marshall plan countries did not have enough American money to cash in their own currency. The result was that the American investor usually found himself with foreign money worth far less than U. S. dollars.

This, in turn, cut off a potential supply of precious American dollars and retarded industrial development of the particular European nations.

Under the plan, ECA, in conjunction with the particular nation, will issue guaranties on a new project in western Europe which will contribute to recovery.

The guaranty will assure an American investor that he can convert his foreign exchange up to 100 per cent of the amount he originally put into the project.

Hoffman called the move a "most effective" means of promoting private trade channels and predicted that it will be of "great value" in aiding recovery.

The plan also provides ten million dollars to be set aside for newspaper and magazine publishers, news wire services and motion picture producers to convert their foreign exchange into dollars.

428 Area Postal Workers Get $193,500 Pay Increase

Legislation Affects 189 In Richland

New Law Lauded By Postmasters

An estimated 428 postal employes in the Mansfield area will receive $193,500 more in their pay envelopes the next year.

The postal pay hike is one of a series of recent government wage increases for federal employes authorized by Congress.

Approximately 129 post office employes in the City of Mansfield alone are affected by the increases which begin this month.

For classified postal employes, a permanent increase of $450 a year is authorized by the law signed by President Truman two weeks ago. Many non-classified postal workers and other federal civil service workers will get a smaller increase.

RICHLAND HAS 189

There are approximately 189 postal employes in Richland county, including the 129 in Mansfield.

Rural carriers, clerks, city mail carriers and even postmasters will benefit under the new pay hike.

The City of Ashland, with 51 postal workers, is second only to Mansfield in the immediate area. Surprisingly enough, Loudonville's 25-man post office department will pad its employes' pay envelopes' with $11,250 the next year.

'DESERVED HIKE'

C. L. D. Hatsel, Ashland postmaster, said the increase was a "much-deserved" one. He was echoed by Carl V.A. Beeoe, postmaster of Mt. Gilead's 17-man office, who pointed out that the postal employes have been the lowest salaried government workers in the country.

A breakdown of the larger post offices in the Mansfield area and the number of postal workers who will benefit under the new legislation follows:

Post Office.	No. of Men
Mansfield	129
Ashland	51
Bucyrus	26
Loudonville	25
Shelby	24
Galion	24
Crestline	18
Willard	8
All other cities	123
Total	428

Included among the smaller towns are many one- and two-man post office departments, including Tiro, New Washington, Greenwich, Plymouth, Bellville, Shiloh, Butler, Lucas, Lexington, Ontario, Pavonia, Perrysville, Nova, Nankin, Sullivan, Savannah, Jeromesville and Hayesville.

Women's Society Stages Picnic

GALION — An indoor picnic, together with a literary program, provided an enjoyable evening for members of the Woman's Missionary society at the First Reformed church last night. Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Oscar Hocker, Mrs. Ralph Hollanshead and Mrs. H. W. Wolfelt.

The program included articles read by Mrs. Edgar Beall, Mrs. Roy Arter and Mrs. David Bauer; a letter from Mrs. Ward Hartman, former member who is now a missionary in China with her husband, read by Mrs Pearl Beck, songs, Mrs Forrest Hahn; and colored slides of her recent trip through the western states shown by Mrs. R R Elliker.

Valuable Tools Taken By Thieves

Burglary of the Sharon township highway department tool house of $100 worth of tools and equipment was reported to sheriff's deputies late yesterday.

Deputies said the thieves entered by pushing in the bottom of a double door.

Missing are socket wrenches, other wrenches, several punches and chisels, one hammer, an automatic pressure tire pump grease gun, spot light and headlights from a tractor mowing machine.

'Light' Voting Today Marks Sharon School Merger Plan

SHARON—With Sharon township's two one-room schoolhouses hanging in the balance, balloting began today on a proposed 4-mill levy.

Election officials said voting was "light" in the morning. Less than 30 persons had voted by 10 a. m. However, officials predicted a much larger turnout during the noon lunch hour and in late afternoon.

Election officials estimated that more than 500 persons are eligible to vote. Polls opened at 6:30 a. m., although the first ballot wasn't cast until seven.

A sixty per cent majority is required to enact the levy. If passed, the township will retain its two one-room schoolhouses.

However, officials pointed out that if the levy is beaten, Sharon school children will be required to attend Shelby city schools.

Township grade schools would then be merged with the Shelby city schools.

from streets and lawns where they had fallen during the storm.

Trees were reported down at Maple and Euclid, Penn avenue and Park avenue west, Third and Bowman streets; West Fifth school grounds and on West Fourth.

Most severe street damage, due to the storm, occurred at East Fifth and Diamond where a pavement upheaval was caused by the rush of water through the sewers. The intersection was under repair today, allowing only one-way traffic through the crossing.

AREA UNDER WATER

Davis added that the area from the Erie railroad tracks to the Barnes Manufacturing company was under water for several hours, due to an over-loading of storm sewers in that area.

The county picture of storm damage was less severe. County Engineer Walter E. Rusk reported the only major damage was to a concrete bridge on the Springmill-west road. Rusk said the bridge dropped one foot when its rain-swollen stream undermined an abutment. Many of the gravel roads were also washed out in spots.

Damage to crops in the area was reported as "not bad" by Guy Taylor, chairman of the Richland County AAA.

Taylor said the rain "did more good than harm in most sections" but that some wheat and oats had been reported down. He said the damage extended only to Five Points, about six miles north of Mansfield.

The U. S. weather bureau forecast mild weather for the rest of the week. It released this five-day forecast:

"Somewhat cooler Wednesday and Thursday. Temperature slightly below normal for the period Showers over southern section Wednesday and showers toward the end of the week Total precipitation about one-half inch over north and one inch over southern section."

20 Join In 'Y' Cycling Trip

Approximately 20 members of the Mansfield YMCA sponsored "Y" Century Cycle club spent today at John Todd park and Hidden Hollow camp.

The club members left from the YMCA at 9 a m and will prepare their own lunch at John Todd park before leaving for the camp for an afternoon swim.

baugh, the driver (Corey) tried to beat the gates across and was caught on the crossing," Koozer said.

"That happens every day. People don't look to see if the gates are coming down when they approach the crossing."

VETERAN EMPLOYE

Koozer said Amsbaugh had been in the railroad employe for three years and that last night's experience was the "only trouble" he had ever had.

Prie said an investigation of the near-mishap was continuing but that:

"It didn't strike me as a legitimate case. The watchman appeared alert.

"We have a problem that is not all our own making," Prie continued. "Cars move bumper to bumper and it seems to me the watchmen do a good job under the conditions."

Prie said he drove across the tracks at the East Fourth crossing several times last night to study the situation. He said at one time, cars moving bumper to bumper, were so close that none of the vehicles could move forward or backward.

"The watchman used good sense," Prie commented. "He got down from the tower and flagged the cars in back of us."

Death Takes Mrs. F. R. Fast

Mrs. Margaret P Fast, widow of Frank R. Fast, 46 Douglas avenue, died early today. She had been in failing health for several years

Born in Crestline but a resident of Mansfield for more than 50 years, Mrs. Fast was a member of the First Congregational church

Surviving is one sister, Mrs. George A. Colston of Baltimore, who was with her at the time of her death, and a niece, Miss Eleanor P. Colston also of Baltimore

Children's Day Marked In Iberia

Federated Church Holds Exercises

IBERIA—"Don't ever give up, if you know you are right," was the advice of Mary Wayman of Wheeling, W. Va., in a short talk at the Iberia Federated church Children's Day exercises.

The meeting featured the Junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Horace Braden and Mrs. Don Bosh, pianist. Musical numbers also were rendered by the Beginner and Primary groups.

Elder Charles McAnall led in prayer. Ruth Shindeldecker played the offeratory. Allen Riddle and Richard McClarren served as Deacons.

A special exercise, "Roses" was given by Barbara James, David Bosh, John Miller, Joan Kerr and Warren Longacre. Jimmie Baker and Bruce Riddle sang a duet.

"Our Place In Sunday School" was the opening recitation by Keith Longacre. Other recitations were given by Janie Dretzka, Warren Longacre, Linda Dretzka, Barbara James, David Bosh, Dicky and John Miller, and Arnold Shelton.

Dr. Llewellyn of Punjab, India, will preach at the Federated church at the regular Sunday morning service and will appear at the Iberia Methodist church in Union services at Sunday evening vespers.

Shelby Boy Sent to BIS

A 16-year-old Shelby boy was committed to the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster yesterday afternoon for violation of the terms of his probation.

The boy had been placed on probation Friday by Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer on charges of breaking and entering the Horner Cafe in Shelby, early Thursday.

He was back in court yesterday after Shelby police said the youth was out on the streets at 3 a. m. Sunday. His probation required that he be home by 10 p. m.

A 17-year-old Michigan youth, accused of intoxication, was fined $15 and costs. The fine was suspended, and the youth ordered to return to Michigan.

The youth was arrested after Benjamin Van Zile, of 212 Washington avenue, reported to police that the youth pulled a knife on him during an argument in Cork and Bottle cafe, North Main street. Police filed the intoxication complaint. Van Zile did not bring charges.

Farmer Dies Of Gun Wound

SHELBY — Donald Harding, 35, a farmer of nearby Shenandoah, died enroute to the Shelby Memorial hospital at 7:45 p. m., yesterday as a result of a head wound.

Dr. D. C. Lavender, county coroner, ruled the death a "suicide."

Harding was found by his wife, Verdie, lying mortally wounded on the floor, a 22 calibre rifle at his side.

His physician, Dr. Charles Butner, reported that Harding had been in ill health for some time and was suffering from an acute nervous condition.

The body was taken to the McQuate funeral home in Shiloh

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p m at the Shenandoah church with Rev John MacDonald officiating.

Besides his wife, he is survived by his father, Fred C. Harding; one brother, Richard, of Shenandoah; and one sister, Mrs. Georgia Herr, of Sarasota, Fla

Burial will be in the Shenandoah cemetery

Boals to Report On Traffic Plan

Members of the Mansfield Optimist club at their regular meeting Wednesday, will hear Frend Boals, Mansfield Traffic Commissioner, report on the recent recommendations for one-way streets to control the city parking problems.

The club's board of governors recently approved chartering a bus to take the entire membership to a baseball game between the Cleveland Indians and the New York Yankees Aug 6, providing the club's membership goal is attained

Shelby's 'Hazardous' Railway Crossings Will Be Protected

SHELBY — Shelby's railroad crossings, long considered "hazardous" by safety officials, will be given further protection.

A local railroad official told city officials yesterday that new warning signals and gates for the Broadway crossing of the Big Four tracks soon would be erected.

The seriousness of the "poor vision" automobile-train intersection was underscored last week when a St. Louis-bound streamline train ploughed into a truck on Smiley avenue.

The driver, Arduff Berger of New Washington, escaped serious injury, although the vehicle was completely demolished.

Mayor William Morris, taking cognizance of the situation, said that he was in contact with railroad officials and expected new precautionary devices would be installed at all crossings in Shelby.

A railroad spokesman said that the safety devices would be erected shortly.

Commenting on several accidents on the Smiley avenue railroad crossing, the mayor said he had contacted the railroads three months ago and was advised the corrective measures would be taken.

City officials pointed out that the railroad's approval of the Broadway crossing was "an indication that the various roads plan to do something about eliminating existing dangerous conditions."

'Wonderful Time,' Girl Says of Trip

Miss Emily Campbell, one of the Mansfield winners in the News-Journal "Men of Erie" essay contest, in a letter received today said she and Harold Leiendecker, the other contest winner, are having a "wonderful time" in New York City.

"This afternoon," Miss Campbell wrote, "we went to the ball game. New York won, much to my delight, and Harold's disgust. The game was real exciting, but it was certainly hot at the Polo grounds.

"Tonight we dined to the music of Vincent Lopez. Then we took a long sight-seeing tour of the city. The Bowery and China Town were the most fascinating.

"Later tonight we went to the top of the Empire State building. It was as wonderful and beautiful as all the pictures we had seen of the building. We are looking forward to each planned hour of the tour. Everything is so complete.

"Thank you for your part in making this trip possible to both of us."

Miss Campbell and Leiendecker will leave New York Wednesday for their return trip home. They are staying at the Hotel Taft in New York.

Music Teacher Resigns Position

LOUDONVILLE — William J. Yeager, music instructor here since 1935 and director of the high school vocational guidance department, has resigned to accept a position with the Mansfield Sanitary Pottery company.

New Rotary Committees

GALION — Committees were named, and aims and objects of the club for the coming year were outlined by the new president, Howard Nussbaum, when the Galion Rotary club held its regular dinner meeting at the Hotel Talbott, last night.

Chairmen named to serve are: aims and objects—Howard Nussbaum; club service—W. Y. McCulloch; vocational service — Ford Mellott; community service—Lawrence Bennett; international service—Walter Goshorn; classification—Harry Jackson; membership—Warren Beaty; program—Marion E. Shank; fellowship and attendance—Arthur Manzer; Rotary information—Dr. B. P. Mansfield; The Rotarian—W. L. Swick; traffic safety—Maurice Wells; crippled children—Dr. C. R. Kackley; youth work—William Bradfield; club bulletin—Dr. Mansfield; sergeant-at-arms — Arthur Manzer; song leader—Rev. Paul Walter; pianist—Mrs. William Bradfield.

Three members recognized in honor of their birthdays were Ernest Denton, Harry Jackson and Maurice Tuttle.

Plans also were formulated for a family picnic, July 28, at the Lawrence Bennett home, north of Galion.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR — MANSFIELD, OHIO, TUESDAY, JULY 13, 1948

The record shows that, as of June 1, the average American had 39 cents more to circulate than a month earlier—but he's probably been to the grocery store since then.

It appears that an 18-year-old college sophomore is included in Georgia's delegation to the Democratic national convention—so why doesn't he explain things to the other 1233 delegates.

That word, "clue," as used in items making reference to police investigation of last week's bombing, may also be correctly spelled "clew"—but neither spelling means much unless it leads to disclosure of the culprit.

Keynote Speech Sets Campaign Pattern

THEY'RE OFF! Whatever turmoil may exist within the Democratic party, you'd never guess there was any such thing if you based judgment on the hour-long burst of oratory indulged in by Senator Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, in his keynote speech at last night's convention session.

Seventy-year-old Senator Barkley, stalwart defender of Democratic party principles for almost a half century, now appears in the role of champion of the New Deal, and his scathing rebuke of Republicans in general, and the Eightieth Republican Congress in particular, gave a clear insight into the campaign pattern that will mark the efforts of the Democrats to return Harry S. Truman to the presidency for another four years.

True, little mention was made of Truman in the keynote address, and much attention was paid to the late President Roosevelt and the sixteen years of New Deal experimentation, but there was no hint of defeatism in Senator Barkley's discussion of past, present and future political issues and he showed admirable adaptation to whatever form of leadership the Democratic party might take, even to the extent of accepting the New Deal and promising adherence to its policies in the event of continuance of a Democratic administration.

Dissension may appear in the later proceedings of the national convention, which is now in its second day in Philadelphia, but it was not permitted to reach the surface during the demonstration that followed Senator Barkley's conciliatory keynote speech.

Enforce or Repeal Ignored Laws

IT SEEMS a long time ago that Mansfield was pridefully referred to as "a city of churches," which meant, among other things, that various religious denominations were well represented in this community and exerted considerable influence in making Mansfield "a good city in which to live, work, and rear a family."

Mansfield is still entitled to be known as "a city of churches," although the spread of night clubs, taverns, beer places and gambling operations sometimes seems to place greater emphasis on such activities than on the quiet functioning of religious groups.

It should cause no surprise that at least two Mansfield ministers took occasion last Sunday to comment on the return of commercialized gambling to this city, after an unexplained shutdown on such illegal operations for a couple of months the early part of the year.

Excuse most commonly offered by a city administration for non-enforcement of anti-gambling laws is that "a majority of the people" want to gamble—and if that is actually the case then there should be no difficulty in securing repeal of anti-gambling laws, legalizing and licensing such operations and making it an open field for all comers, instead of permitting the taint of suspected bribery and graft to rest on those who are charged with responsibility to enforce present laws.

The combined membership of Mansfield churches represents a considerable majority of the people of this city. It would be interesting, if such figures were available, to learn what percentage of these approve of continuance of illegal gambling—as there is just a chance that Mayor Vaughn and other law enforcement officials may be more greatly impressed by minority pressure than by majority preference.

Danger at Unguarded Grade Crossing

THAT is a serious situation that has been disclosed at the East Fourth street grade crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad, where several narrow escapes have been reported recently because of undependability of persons employed to operate the gates.

Explanation by a railroad official that "the human element" makes it difficult to obtain good care of the crossing is quite understandable, but the further statement that "we're having difficulties in getting qualified men, intelligent enough, to work for the money paid for the job" is not so clear.

It may be doubted if there is any railroad job involving greater responsibility or requiring greater dependability and assured sobriety than that of watchman at a grade crossing on a much-traveled street in such a city as Mansfield.

If the pay is insufficient to attract and hold the type of men who can be safely entrusted with that kind of a job—then the pay should be increased. There should be no more sleeping on that job.

Find Time For Enjoyable Leisure

MAN, taking guidance from the sun, has mapped his days on a 24-hour-cycle. There are no more, no less than this number of hours available in a day. Yet he tries to crowd enough events for several such periods into every 24 hours. The more time-saving devices he invents, the more accomplishments he tries to achieve. The result is the rush, the pressure of present-day life.

Leisure, like time, exists and is possible for all to partake of, to plan for at will. Isn't it queer that many human beings permit themselves to become so snarled up in making a living that they haven't time to live?

What Some Other People Are Saying

British Field Marshal VISCOUNT MONTGOMERY, in an address to the French: "An aggressor will have to be very bold to challenge the combined forces of our two countries associated with the other nations of the western European union and supported by the United States."

LEON HENDERSON, chairman of the Americans for Democratic Action: "We need immediate action to halt the rising cost of living. That action can be taken only by government."

* * *

MRS. D. LEIGH COLVIN, president of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, complaining about the sale of surplus potatoes to distillers: "It would be better for the potatoes to rot than to permit them to be converted into a product which is causing so much decay in moral, social and spiritual life in our country."

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Political Methods That Ignore Ethics

PHILADELPHIA — If politics be the music of words, play on. But in the name of heaven, make it short.

Perhaps when television spreads over the nation, it will force some reform in our absurd political processes. But that was the vain hope of some people in 1924, when a national convention was first carried over the radio.

During the interminable Democratic convention in that year, an Ohio philosopher said, "This is the end. The people will never stand for this when they actually hear it." But his prophecy failed. The habits of politics are too firmly fixed.

The rhetoric of politics has a certain scientific standing. Aristotle wrote a great book on the subject, reducing it to five rules and categories. When practiced by masters like Churchill or Woodrow Wilson, political rhetoric has some of the attributes of great music.

But our conventions have little of this classic stuff. Even good speeches are delivered in the midst of such disorder and weariness that they repel the listener.

But redundancy and equivocation are not confined to speeches. The whole language of present-day politics is invested with sloppiness and insincerity. Extravagant claims are the debased coinage of so-called political leaders.

A hundred times during and after this convention the public will be told things it will not believe—things the speaker knows will not be believed.

* * *

In Comic Opera Style.

A WHOLE batch of claims that Truman will be elected are coming from people who visit the White House. A convenient example is provided by Mon C. Wallgren, governor of Washington: "We" (meaning the West) "will go Democratic."

Then, in Gilbert and Sullivan style, there comes an afterthought—well, hardly all the west. "We might lose California." And "Oregon is like the Maine of the West." Then after a deep breath: "But generally speaking, the West will go Democratic. By the West I mean the eleven states in the western governors' conference.

Something like this backing and filling has pervaded all the stop-Truman talk. There is grave question whether some of the Eisenhower advocates really wanted the general at all or dreamed that they could get him. It was mainly a game of words to hold Truman while they were looking for someone else on whom they could all agree.

Hague, for example has uttered tall talk before—as in 1932 when he predicted dire defeat for Roosevelt before the convention and glorious victory after the convention.

The eternal question is whether the ones who do the talking are deluding themselves. They are not dumbbells, because they have held power by the most astute methods for many years. They cannot mean what they say. Therefore, they must believe—with some justification—that they gain political advantage by their insincere utterances.

That, of course, raises an ethical question. Is politics a profession in which truthfulness is not a virtue? Is there a moral law in politics essentially unlike that which prevails elsewhere?

Or is there an ethical system in politics that has any resemblance to what is generally known as an ethical system? These are considerations which might well be in the minds of citizens as they listen to the Philadelphia story this week.

Bi-Partisan Weak Spots

By THOMAS L. STOKES

GOVERNOR Thomas E. Dewey is due thanks for his frank announcement that he will discuss—and criticize—some phases of Truman administration foreign policy during the coming campaign.

This should dispel some of the mists that surround what our platform orators glibly call "our bi-partisan foreign policy." The so-called "bi-partisan" arrangement has served a wholesome purpose, it is true, in establishing a general course of action but, at the same time, it has given foreign policy a sort of sanctity, a holier-than-thou, touch-me-not, quality that is not in keeping with the times.

Foreign policy now so directly affects all of us because of our new position of leadership in a nervous, trigger-happy world that it ought to be debated fully and frankly during a campaign preliminary to the election of a chief executive and a Congress who will shape it for the next four years.

Such a debate will give Republicans a chance to analyze and dissect some aspects of Truman administration policy on which Governor Dewey claimed Republicans had not been consulted as called for by the "bi-partisan" arrangement — Potsdam, the Greek-Turkish program, China, Palestine.

At the same time it will give Democrats an opportunity to reveal clearly to the public the danger that lies ahead for a policy of real international cooperation unless the Republican party, itself, can check the nationalist clique in Congress, particularly in the House, that cut European recovery program appropriations and very nearly wrecked our reciprocal trade program, both so necessary to world recovery and peace.

* * *

Frank Discussion Needed.

THIS nationalist bloc was beaten back in Congress and by the Republican convention temporarily at least, but it still exists. It is well that the people should know about it, so they may vote intelligently on Congress in the election.

While Governor Dewey may not say much about this element in his own party, his initiative in opening debate on foreign policy offers a chance for the Democrats to say plenty.

A sort of gentleman's agreement in the 1946 congressional elections not to make an issue of foreign policy left the public in the dark and uninformed about many members of Congress who, since their re-election, have been active in trying to break down an effective international cooperation policy.

Henry Wallace, who is bound by no arrangements about a "bi-partisan foreign policy," has spoken freely, without inhibitions, from the moving stump he occupies as leader of a third party.

Incidentally, he has made some rather penetrating observations about the "bi-partisan" arrangement in so far as it often leaves the public without the alternative supposed to be a feature of the two-party system.

It will be healthy to have Republicans and Democrats, as well, equally frank about the differences that exist in their approach to foreign policy—and there are differences.

Governor Dewey wisely has exempted the United Nations and ERP from partisan discussion, since these are fundamentals upon which an overwhelming majority of our people agree.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Friday, July 13, 1928

Edmond J. Eberhardt, 42, letter carrier, died at his home, 245 Wempless avenue.

Kenneth Schwartz was named by Sheriff Schad as motorcycle officer to patrol Richland county roads.

Arcada Riding academy was organized here, with Dr. Carl S. Schmucker chosen as first president.

M. R. Stretch was installed as noble grand of Mansfield lodge of Odd Fellows.

Masonic picnic was held at North park, "despite heavy rainfall."

Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thompson, 386 Wayne street.

Two groups of young people of First Congregational church returned from week's outing at Oberlin Beach, Lake Erie.

Donald McGinley, Forest avenue, received notification of admission to University of Michigan medical school.

TODAY IN HISTORY

General Edward Braddock, English commander, died on July 13, 1755, of wounds received in a battle that took place near Fort Duquesne (Pennsylvania).

As Cerf Tells It

A question in a recent elementary school quiz in Louisville was "State the number of tons of grain exported from the United States in any given year." One resourceful student answered, "1491. None."

Dave Boone Says:

WELL, Philadelphia is first in political conventions and second in the American League. The Democrats and Connie Mack own the city, but the Democrats, with all their troubles, have one big advantage over Connie: They don't have to worry over the Cleveland Indians or the New York Yankees.

* * *

I know a Democrat delegate who doesn't think Truman has a chance but will vote for him. He says he is not really supporting a candidate so much as qualifying for a place on the high-dive Olympics team.

* * *

It's sad to hear that Americans are doing too badly in the contributions for the relief of the children of the world, millions of them crippled, starving and in desperate need. Only one day's pay from every working person was asked, and the fund is 80 per cent short of its goal.

* * *

"How can we expect children struggling to keep alive to hold to ideas that will make them disciples of peace if we fail them?" asks General Eisenhower. "By the very nature of their philosophy they must become wedded to force." Come on, folks; what's the matter?

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Dewey and Douglas Old School Rivals

By DREW PEARSON

PHILADELPHIA — Should the warring Democrats happen to compromise their differences by picking Justice William Orville Douglas as their presidential or vice-presidential candidate, an old, old rivalry with Tom Dewey would be revived.

For Dewey and Douglas were members of the same class at Columbia law school, Douglas at the top of the class, Dewey not so near the top, with both rivals in law-school debates.

FDR, who had to run against Dewey in 1944, always said that one reason he liked to have Bill Douglas around was because he knew how to get the best of Dewey.

Should the Democratic lightning strike Douglas at Philadelphia, it would bring belated fulfillment of Roosevelt's original wishes—four years late. For at the 1944 convention which finally nominated Harry Truman as vice-president, Douglas's name was mentioned first in the letter which FDR wrote Bob Hannegan expressing his choice of running mate.

But Hannegan, determined to put across his old Missouri friend, withheld publication of the letter until after the Truman bandwagon had gathered momentum.

* * *

Douglas' Handicap.

JUSTICE DOUGLAS has suffered politically from one of Franklin Roosevelt's pet policies—his desire to keep the Supreme Court as a protective bulwark against reaction. Fearful that his social program would be hacked down by the judiciary—as it was by the Supreme Court prior to 1936—and worried lest reactionary successors sabotage the New Deal, FDR appointed some of his ablest young executives to the bench. Douglas was one of them.

There his hands have been tied politically, and he has dropped partially out of sight.

When you first meet Douglas, he looks as innocuous as a male ribbon clerk and talks as pleasantly as Robert Taylor. But when the New York financial writers staged their annual dinner back in 1938, they handed the then chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission—Mr. Douglas—a black-snake whip in token of what he had been doing to Wall Street.

Douglas came to Washington shortly after the financial debacle of 1932, joined the newly created Securities and Exchange Commission, and undertook the job of cleaning up a system of financial brigandry which had skimmed the savings from millions of investors.

Today the Street is an example of virtue compared with what it was then, and one reason was Douglas' whipcracking. Before he finished he had sent Richard Whitney, onetime pillar of Wall Street respectability, to the penitentiary.

* * *

Up By the Bootstraps.

JUSTICE DOUGLAS got his early training under the late Chief Justice Harlan Stone when the latter was dean of the Columbia law school. Douglas, a rawboned, gangling youngster from Yakima, Wash., had arrived in New York via the empty freight-car route with exactly 36 cents in his pocket, applied for a small loan from Columbia, and sold papers on the streets of Manhattan to make the loan go further.

Once when his finances were desperately low, and it looked as if he would have to drop out, Dean Stone took two hours out of a busy day to help Douglas get a new job.

The youngest justice of the Supreme Court looks Scotch and is Scotch. Perhaps it is this inheritance plus the fact that he raised himself by his own bootstraps, which has given Bill certain Calvin Coolidge characteristics. Even with the salary of a justice of the Supreme Court, Bill used to walk from the District of Columbia line to his home a few blocks away in Maryland, in order to save 20 cents extra taxi fare. The border between the District and Maryland marks the taxi zone limit.

On the Supreme Court Douglas has been a restless, prodigious worker. Leaving social engagements early, he goes home every night to work on opinions. Along with Justice Hugo Black, he has usually led the court in the number of decisions handed down.

For some time it has been known that Douglas was fidgety on the court and had his eye on more exciting pastures. In fact, when Harold Ickes resigned as secretary of the interior, Truman offered him the Ickes vacancy and Douglas was briefly tempted.

But a couple of visits at the White House and the sight of the Missouri gang, specializing on bourbon and branch water rather than affairs of state, convinced Douglas that he could serve his country more effectively on the bench—though more prosaically.

Assignment: America

Diversified Opposition

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—That old adage about how you "can tell a man by the enemies he makes" would hardly hold true of President Truman in Washington this week.

Even as his nomination seemed more and more certain in Philadelphia, his opposition showed little sign of letting up here in the capital.

And certainly his opposition is nothing if not diversified!

Of course, the President's growing strength at the Democratic convention has had some effect on two general types of his political enemies—namely, the national Republican leaders and some fence-riding members of Truman's own administration.

When the G. O. P. leaders concluded the President was a shoo-in for the nomination, they immediately stepped up those phases of their campaign which are aimed specifically at him.

Typical was the manner in which House Majority Leader Halleck tackled the President's widely reported views on the 80th Congress.

Other top Republicans followed suit. Previously they had bided their time for a few days, figuring it was wiser not to waste any important ammunition this early in the battle.

In the second category fall those slightly weathervane-ish administrative employes about town who, being good Democrats of long standing, have been caught in the dilemma of having to decide whether to stand firm with the Truman faithful of "join the rebels," so to speak. There had been a marked movement to follow the latter course until the President's inner-party strength showed at Philadelphia.

* * *

Back On Band Wagon.

NOW the boys are milling back with nervous bleatings, hoping to convince the shepherd they never left the fold.

But, other than for those two groups, the hue and cry against Harry continues at full throat throughout the capital, and it remains increasingly difficult to attempt to judge the President by the nature of the motley forces which oppose him.

For instance, several well-known and scarcely-silent Dixie Democrats now insist, even louder than before, that the South will go Republican rather than vote for Truman.

Prominent members of that state's rights clique clutch at every opportunity to comment on the long-standing devotion of the southern Democrats—and how little it has been recognized or rewarded in the past.

Specifically, at the moment, they stress the unpalatable (to the South) nature of the President's civil rights proposals.

Another group equally vocal in its opposition to Truman takes exactly the opposite side of the civil rights issue—the New Dealish Americans for Democratic action. Although still somewhat groggy after having had the rug pulled out from under them twice by Eisenhower and Douglas, this crowd still stays in there punching.

However, having repudiated Wallace as well as the Republicans, the A. D. A.—Locally, at least—seems to be getting somewhat confused, except that it still opposes Truman.

Still a third group, which has nothing in common with the aforementioned two crowds other than their mutual opposition to Truman, has grown increasingly articulate during recent days. This outfit is the so-called Progressive party.

It can't see eye-to-eye with the A. D. A. because it wants Henry Wallace for President and Glen Taylor for vice-president. It can't get along with the southern bloc because it stands exactly on the opposite side of the civil rights-state's rights fence.

The Nation Today

Democrats Lack Unity

By JAMES MARLOW

PHILADELPHIA — The Democratic convention to pick a presidential candidate is a dreary affair.

Nobody here seriously doubts that President Truman is a cinch to get the nomination. With that apparently so cut and dried, half the steam is out of the convention.

Three weeks ago the Republicans drenched this city with enthusiasm while they still were in the process of picking one of a number of candidates.

They whooped and hollered and made deals and they jammed the hotel lobbies. The Democrats seem almost lonely by comparison.

True, Senator Claude Pepper, Florida Democrat, threw his hat into the ring and jumped in after it.

True, too, that a flock of southern delegates were getting ready to put up Gov. Ben T. Laney of Arkansas as their own candidate to oppose Mr. Truman.

But Pepper's sudden announcement that he was seeking the presidential nomination left this city and the delegates pretty cold.

And the other southerners—burned up by Mr. Truman's civil rights program—had been talking for quite a while of doing what they did. So it was no great surprise.

Already, it seems to me, politicians in Mr. Truman's own party have done him terrific damage before the presidential campaign gets under way.

In the past week some of the top Democrats talked of nominating Gen. Ike Eisenhower—until Eisenhower said "No, thanks."

Bosses of some of the biggest political machines in the United States — like ex-Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City—were behind the draft-Eisenhower boom.

This now becomes an interesting question:

How are those political leaders, who were all for Eisenhower, going to do an about-face with the voters in their areas and starting bleeding for Truman?

* * *

Difficult Flip-Flop.

MR. TRUMAN can understand this. He got his political start from one of the most successful machines in the United States: Boss Pendergast's in Kansas City.

So it must seem strange to him, knowing how much close political cooperation means among big city politicians, to see such people as Hague turn against him and then do a flip-flop back again.

Mr. Truman says he feels very chipper about his chances for re-election. If the delegates here think they're backing a winner, they're pretty quiet about it.

This is not intended as a particularly gloomy note about the Democrats and their chances in November. But it seems to me to be an accurate portrayal of the situation.

The Republicans, who have control of Congress, know this is their best chance to win the presidency since Franklin D. Roosevelt whipped them down in 1932.

Roosevelt is dead and gone. There is no sure and persuasive hand running this convention and guiding as it gets under way.

The conpention opened with the usual speeches. It probably will be over Thursday with the nomination of Mr. Truman and the selection of his vice-presidential running mate.

Timely Editorial

Time Sure Does Fly!

Now and then when time insists on reminding us that he is flying, he does so in images which don't make the reminder at all shocking. For example, we somehow can't find the most recent intimations of the passing of the years too ghastly. Rather, they are a bit enchanting.

There is the item that leaped out of the page to slap us in the face. "Sistie" Dall was getting married—"Sistie" who with "Buzzy" was sliding down the banisters and shedding her front teeth all over the White House, the last we seem to have heard of her.

The two were the most celebrated of small fry in those days, even getting themselves into campaign speeches and conpressional wisecracks. And here "Sistie" is a bride: the bride of a Republican at that. Romantic—but where have the years gone?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Sanitation Law Urged for Mansfield

MANSFIELD NEWS-JOURNAL
TUESDAY, JULY 13, 1948 PAGE THIRTEEN

Walter Winchell

Communist Giants, Stalin and Tito, Lock Grips In Death Struggle

STALIN VERSUS TITO—Economically, diplomatically, militarily and personally, Tito and Stalin are committed to a battle to a finish against each other. In American language the Balkans are too small a pen to hold two fighting bulls like Stalin and Tito . . .

Economically, by shutting off the Marshall Plan and draining Yugoslavia's supplies, Stalin has become a burden to Tito. The map tells the story: If a 3rd World War comes, Yugoslavia would be the battleground for the Red Army—defending Russia . . . One thing is certain about modern war: No matter who wins, the countries where it is fought will be wiped out. Tito has greatly and grimly resisted the Russian strategy by which he fights first and possibly on his own soil.

The differences between the two men are deep, jealous and bitter. Behind it is Stalin's begrudging and never public admission that Tito and the Yugoslavs saved Moscow . . . When Stalin's deal with Hitler was still on Tito refused to accept Hitler's handshake in spite of the orders of Stalin. He refused Moscow directions to give in to the Nazis, and, ironically, that is what saved Stalin.

(Editor's Note: Presentation in full of Walter Winchell's comprehensive review of the grim struggle between Stalin and Tito makes it necessary to omit Westbrook Pegler's column today, due to space limitations. Pegler's column will be resumed Wednesday.)

In April, 1941, Hitler struck from the Hungarian and Bulgarian frontiers. Tito and Mihailovitch (who were later to fight each other) fought the Nazi legions and delayed them seven weeks. Those lost seven weeks were the decisive edge. They slowed Hitler's timetable into the Russion Winter and that saved Moscow . . . After Hitler's orders he had to call the Red Army cowards and use machine gunners to force the stunned Red Army to hold its ground.

★

Tito made the bitter mistake of taunting Stalin about this chapter which Stalin wants most to forget. Stalin needled Tito on his personal propaganda machine in Yugoslavia. Tito told American friends that he sent word to Stalin that his personal publicity was very modest: He might have called himself, and truthfully, the man who saved Stalin.

Stalin accepted the challenge. For nearly 8 months a cold and deadly intelligence duel has been going on. Military "advisers" were sent to Belgrade from Moscow. Actually, they were top intelligence agents of the military department, who were under instructions to take control of the Yugoslav Army away from Tito . . . Tito's counter-espionage — ironically trained at Moscow—knew every move. They "boxed" the agents, discredited them, or turned them over to Tito's Department 20, which derives its title from the Roman numerals. Twenty in Roman numerals is a doublecross.

Moscow intelligence, perceiving the doublecross, attempted the double doublecross, a conventional intelligence operation by which the enemy's agents are "turned around" and ordered to remain in the enemy's service—but as spies. Tito stopped this cold—with lead.

The fight came to a head when the Cominform announced a meeting in Romania. The Big Five of Tito's regime decided to accept open war . . . The Cominform meeting was scheduled for Sinaia, the Summer palace of the Romanian kings. Tito's leaders considered it a death trap. Their intelligence informed them that if they went—they would be killed—after they publicly "confessed" . . . Tito played the next card like a professional. He invited the Cominform to hold ITS meeting in Belgrade, surrounded by HIS army instead.

In power politics, that is a table stakes bet. Stalin, in cold fury, elected to call. In fact, he has no choice. If he ignores Tito's challenge to his leadership in Yugoslavia, Stalin will lose control of all of the satellite states—and possibly the Communist Party itself. The widely publicized Cominform blast at Tito was not written by the Cominform but by the Kremlin. It accuses Tito of treason, which means that Tito's death warrant has been issued at Moscow.

Tito knows all this. His appeal to Stalin is a counterblow in psychological warfare. It is a cardinal principle of modern intelligence services that blame must be put on a man's shoulders before putting a bullet in his heart. That is why Moscow and Belgrade are so bitterly blaming each other. But even deeper, Tito's challenge to Stalin comes under a much older rule: "Who shoots at a king must kill or get killed."

Unless Russia stops Tito, the Greek guerilla campaign is farcical. Further, Tito has gone far beyond his borders already. His call for a Balkan federation is a bold invitation to the satellite countries to form a military alliance against Moscow . . . Moscow can read maps, too. That explains the ominous note in the Cominform's charges against Tito—that he ruled by a system of "Turkish" terrorism. Turkey and Yugoslavia are now natural allies. Together, they can put two million first-class fighting men in the field. Two million men, already under arms, are enough to make even Stalin stop and count.

True, Stalin has four million men under arms in about one hundred and ninety-two divisions. But they are needed to maintain the Iron Curtain. Stalin wanted a two-front war against Hitler bad enough to avoid one against himself. That is why he is not marching against Tito, yet. If he accepts Tito's challenge through Red army action, he loses the initiative in the West.

In short, Tito has flanked the Red Army. Stalin's European line of communications is threatened. This will ease pressure along the whole line of the western front.

Military men mince no words. Moscow is darkly muttering that Tito is intimidating Bulgaria. It has hinted that if its Bulgarian "ally" calls for help, it will honor the call . . . This is diplomatic preparation for the use of force. The Red Army is already in Bulgaria, and all tracks have been cleared for reinforcements, including the heavy artillery divisions, which are being rushed from Odessa. The fuse of World War III—like World War I—is sputtering in the Balkan powder keg.

The historic struggle is viewed calmly—and aloofly—in Washington. Tito is regarded as a better military man than Stalin—but the odds are heavily against him. It's a fight between a first class lightheavyweight and a champion heavyweight. The Communists throughout the world have been ordered to open all propaganda guns on Tito. The first phase of the war is in progress—armed intelligence operations. Washington was amazed that Tito showed himself in public. The price on his head cannot be counted. Stalin may use sweet words—but he will not be backing down. He will be crouching for the kill. A piece of steel in Tito's heart—or a bit of lead in the middle of his brain—is worth, to the Kremlin, all the gold in Fort Knox.

3 Lexington Children, 'Cyclist Hurt

East Canton Man Cut and Bruised

An East Canton motorcyclist and three Lexington children received minor injuries yesterday in separate accidents, investigated by sheriff's deputies.

John C. Nimon, East Canton, R. D. 1, was treated at People's hospital for cuts and bruises suffered when his motorcycle collided with a truck driven by Robert Boehm, 64, of 32 Bahl avenue.

Deputies said the mishap occurred at 2:45 p. m. at Park avenue east road and Madison road.

According to officers, Boehm attempted a left turn into Madison road in front of the motorcycle which was traveling west. Boehm agreed to pay Nimon's hospital bill and repairs to the cycle.

RAMS REAR OF CAR

A few minutes after the accident occurred, a car driven by Richard Smith, 16, of Loudonville, R. D. 2, rammed the rear of a car stopped in the line of traffic by Kendall W. Dean, 18. Deputies said Dean had stopped behind three other cars until Nimon's motorcycle could be removed from the highway. Smith's car had to be towed away.

Deputy Foster Palmer reported at 12:30 p. m. yesterday that three Lexington children, Rose Bowman, 7, Rebecca Bowman, 6, and Carol Baker, 7, suffered scratches and bruises when the car in which they were riding collided with a car driven by John Gotner, 34, of Lexington, R. D. 2.

The children were brought to General hospital where they were treated and released.

Palmer said the girls were riding in a car, driven by Kenny Campbell, 26, of Lexington, R. D. 2, which collided with the Gotner car as it was being driven out of Gotner's driveway, one mile east of King's Corners. Etta Baker, 14, also in the Campbell car, escaped injury. Deputy Palmer said both cars were badly damaged.

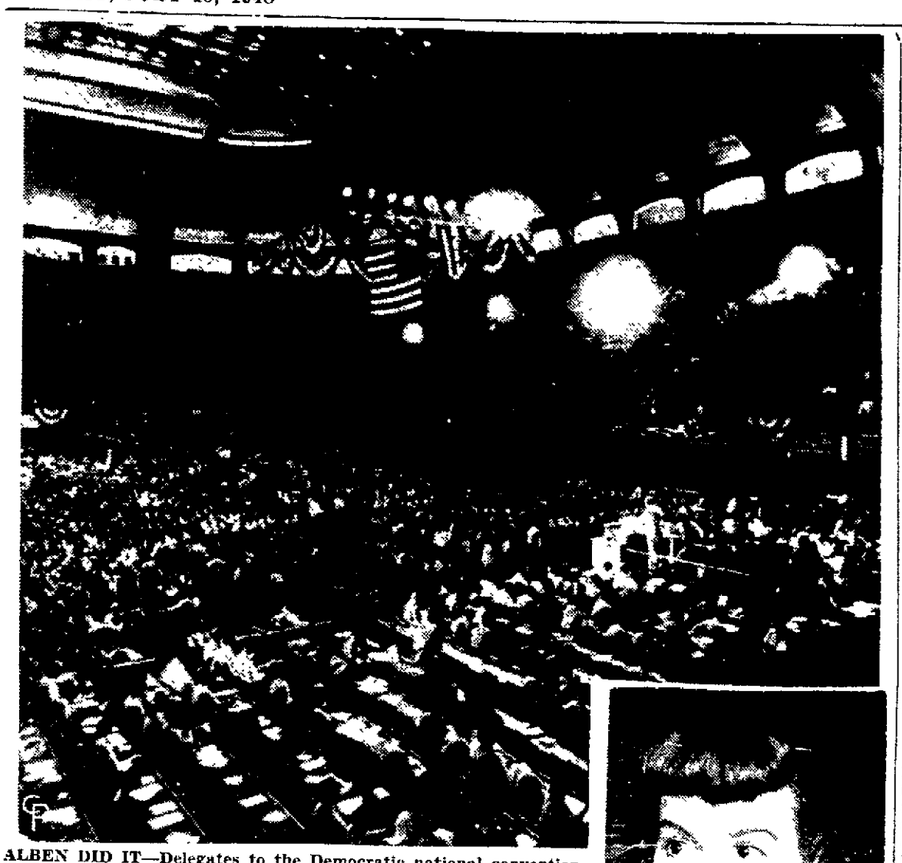
Baumberger Dies on 49th Birthday

Clarence J. Baumberger, 278 West Longview avenue, operator of the Baumberger Garage at 215 East Luther place, died yesterday on his forty-ninth birthday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Arthur Totman, in Springmill. He had been ill for several weeks.

Born in Mansfield, July 12, 1899, he spent his entire life here. He was a member of Venus Lodge No. 152, F. and A. M.

Surviving are his wife, Margaret Gresmer Baumberger; a daughter, Mrs. J. R. Atton, and three brothers, Frank, Lyman and Herman, all of Mansfield; and two sisters, Mrs. Totman and Mrs. Melvin Yoha, Shiloh, R. D. 1.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home where friends may call. Services will be held there Thursday at 1:30 p. m. in charge of Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church. Burial will be in the Mansfield Memorial Park.



ALBEN DID IT—Delegates to the Democratic national convention were going about their jobs without any particular enthusiasm, listening passively to the program. But when Sen. Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, had completed his keynote address last night, the scene changed to one of shouting and confusion. In 68 minutes of old-fashioned sledge hammer oratory, the old and honored wheelhorse of the New Deal rescued the torpid convention. His talk was followed by a tremendous outburst of applause in a 28-minute ovation.

Mrs. Eleanor Searle Whitney (right), sister of Dr. G. J. Searle jr. of Mansfield, will sing the national anthem at the convention Wednesday at 8 p. m., Mansfield time. Glum Unity Fuses Dems

Ohioans 'One Unhappy Family'

(Special to The News-Journal)

PHILADELPHIA — The two men who represent Mansfield at the Democratic national convention here will join virtually the entire Ohio delegation in strong support of Truman's nomination on the first ballot.

They are Russ Kissner, Delaware, and Harold Pierce, Newark, delegates from the 17th district of which Mansfield is a part. Both were elected as alternates but assumed the delegates posts when the regulars were unable to attend the convention.

Interviewed as they sat on the convention floor under glaring lights which sent the mercury soaring into the high 90's, both men backed Truman to the hilt.

"Truman has waged a stiff battle in the face of strong congressional opposition and we will now support him with renewed vigor," said Pierce.

Both men emphasized the rare unanimity shown by the Ohio delegation this year. In the past the Ohio group has been split half a dozen ways often unable to get together even on the final ballot.

But as the party threatens to collapse internal fueds have been forgotten and the delegation has closed ranks to present a unified front. As one delegate put it "we're all one big unhappy family now."

COMMUNICATIONS CUT

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Storm damage last night left communications between Columbus, Circieville and Chillicothe disrupted today.

Tyger Boosters Name 21 to Advisory Group

The fast-moving program to make Mansfield high school's band and athletic programs the best ever stepped along today with the announcement of three important developments by Arthur L. Glattke, president of the Tyger Booster club. These were:

1. Appointment of a 19-member Tyger Booster club advisory committee, including leaders in Mansfield industry and business.

2—Announcement of a working organization of some 300 Mansfielders whose job will be to plan and carry on an all-out campaign to recruit Tyger Booster club members.

3—Appointment of committee chairmen whose job will be to assist school officials in providing many of the features necessary to help performances of band and athletic participants.

Glattke announced that Tyger club officers, directors, committee chairmen and advisory committee members will meet at 7:30 tonight at the Chamber of Commerce to act on the club's proposed program.

He pointed out that club activities are getting off to an early start this year owing to the fact that many of the club's plans need early action so the expanded Tyger program will be in readiness for the first football game.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Members of the advisory committee, as listed by Glattke, include:

J. H. Ashbaugh, vice president of Westinghouse; G. W. Stephens, president of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company; James M. Hill, chairman of the board of Empire Steel company; J. C. Gorman, president of the Gorman-Rupp company; James H. Hoffman, secretary-treasurer of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company; T. R. Sammons, president Sammons Advertising Agency; Paul M. Eliot, president of Farmers Savings and Trust company; John G. Routzon, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce; Carl Rupp, Gorman-Rupp company; A. G. Morningstar, school athletic director; J. Merton Holcombe, band director; H. W. Arlin, president of board of education; W. L. Miller, school superintendent; Glenn G. Rohleder, high school principal; Dr. W. R. Reister, school board member; D. H. Hughes, president of Band Parents' club; Clyde Garn, Band Parents' club; M. F. Riblett, News-Journal general manager; J. Marion O'Hara, Richland Inc., general manager; Harold Underwood, secretary Local 17, URWA, representing CIO; and Jay L. Stover, president of Teamsters' Local No. 40, representing A. F. of L.

Glattke announced the appointments of Hoffman, Sammons and Rupp to represent a special membership committee, and appointed Dr. W. A. Weir and Hand Richards as co-chairmen of the all-important general membership committee.

J. Gilbert Baird, well known to Mansfield as a "showmanship expert," and Hughes were named co-chairmen of the committee to assist band officials and members in arranging performances.

Heading the important expenditures committee is Sherman Wentz, cashier of the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank. Robert M. Young, William Daugherty and Carl Schafer were named co-chairmen of the committee which will arrange the Tyger Booster Night meetings scheduled for Monday nights this fall.

The Tyger club president also announced the appointment of Pete Zeides, Ed Channell and Hughes as co-chairmen of the goodwill and team, band reception committee. Joseph MacLean of Coleman Todd Associates, advertising agency, was named chairman of the advertising and publicity committee.

NEW EXPERIENCE

Although a belated one, the trip to New York City which Mr. and Mrs. A. Lemoine Derr began this morning will be a new and happy experience for both. The trip was originally given to Derr last spring by members of the Mansfield Senior high school choir in appreciation of his services as director. But it was impossible for the Derrs to go then, so they've been planning for weeks on today's start of the journey. They will drive through and expect to spend about 10 days seeing the sights of the metropolis.

U. S. Aid Sees Need Of Action

'No New Dealer,' He Remarks

Jesse D. Straitiff, U. S. department of the interior technical adviser, today suggested that Mansfield adopt a sanitation and rat-proofing ordinance.

Commenting on Mayor Roy W. Vaughn's statement that he would "never advocate an ordinance to rat proof all buildings," Straitiff wrote The News-Journal:

"In a public health program the general welfare of a community is paramount to private interest and as the first step in a comprehensive rat control program which will eliminate the contamination of food offered to the public, an ordinance in support of sanitation and rat proofing must be made available."

"I am indeed sorry that because of the actions of your mayor, your city was denied the free aid to which it was entitled through the urban rat control program of the department of the interior.

"Politics should not be allowed to interfere with a public health program. However, I was amazed at the politically tainted remark of Mayor Vaughn that I was 'just a New Dealer,' as I have been a registered Republican since I have been entitled to vote."

Launching Date Set

The Richland County Coordinating Council of Churches and Christian Agencies will be launched formally a general county rally Sept. 26, annual rally day in Protestant churches.

Plans for the opening of the Council's program of coordinating religious activities in Mansfield and Richland county, were made last night at a meeting of the executive board at the First Congregational parish house here. Rev Matthew G. Madden, president of the council, presided.

The county was divided into three sections — north, south and city.

Rev. Paul Beighley, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Lexington, and Rev. E. F. Braden of Johnsville will head the committee for the southern part of the county.

Rev. Harlan Miller, pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed church, Shelby; Mrs. Edward Wolford, Shelby, and Rev. John MacDonald of Shenandoah, will arrange the program for the northern part of the county and Hobart Cashell, Lutheran layman here, and Maurice W. Taylor, YMCA executive secretary, will have charge of Mansfield's plans.

An out-of-town speaker will be engaged.

Executive board members also planned a Reformation Rally for Oct. 31, traditional Reformation Sunday. Each of the three districts is to have its individual Reformation service on that day.

A suggestion for taking a religious census of the county and cities was also discussed but no definite plans made.

The next meeting will be held July 26 in the parish house.

17 Scouts Open Week at Camp

Seventeen members of Mansfield area Boy Scout troops are attending the first period of the Johnny Appleseed council camp at Camp Avery Hand jr. They will return Sunday.

The scouts in the group are Joseph Nixon, Elson Remy, Ronald Stockwell, Robert Calhoun, John Fighter and Raymond Baitch, Mansfield; Lewis Petit, Philip Sattler, Edson Grindle, Jack Klepser and Donald Neil, Ashland; James Gorrell, Harold Phalor, Lee Bernhard, James Currens, Roger Mawrer and Alfred Taylor, Loudonville.

The boys will receive instruction in cooking, tent pitching, knife, axe and compass work.

Twenty-six other scouts have registered for the period of July 18 to July 25 and 22 have registered for July 25 until Aug. 1.

Heavy Rain Fails to Halt Kinsey Players' Opening

Drama, "country style," came to Mansfield last night and the audience loved it.

It was the opening night of the eleventh annual appearance here of the Kinsey players, traditionally favorite Ohio thespians, now on tour for the company's 60th year.

The crowd wasn't as large as the company expected on opening night, but yesterday afternoon's heavy rainstorm probably prevented many from attending in the belief that the "show might not go on."

But opening on schedule is one of the Kinsey traditions. Besides the big ten had been put up prior to the rain, and the ground underneath was almost as dry as tinder.

Mansfielders were particularly interested in last night's show because a Mansfield youth, Dick Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kline, 161 Buckingham street, was in the cast. It was Kline's first appearance professionally here. He joined the show at Marion, opening city, and expects to go on with the cast during the entire summer season.

The play, "Love, Honor and Oh Baby!" was a good show for opening night. It gave the old favorites, Madge Kinsey Graf and her husband, Harry Graf, their two daughters, Betty Murdock and Jean Graves and Tony Imig, a chance for some nice acting. And "country style" or not, the Kinsey clan can really act.

Then there were "Pep" Graves and Jack Murdock, sons-in-law who added considerably to the merriment and a newcomer, Raleigh Tozer, who took the part of a chief of police.

"Love, Honor and Oh Baby!" will continue for this evening with a change of bill tomorrow night and Friday night.

Rusk Pleads For Bigger Road Fund

Asks ½-Mill Share Of Real Estate Levy

County Engineer Walter E. Rusk presented to county commissioners yesterday a letter calling attention to the serious lack of funds for running the county highway department.

His letter pointed out that taxes are high, but that is the result of state and federal imposts rather than local levies.

He said only $15,000 of the $350,000 to be spent on roads in 1948 comes out of real estate levies. The rest comes out of the state automobile license and gasoline gas tax funds.

His letter asks for an apportionment of a one-half mill out of the general 10-mill real estate levy for road and bridge work.

40 PER CENT FOR LABOR

He said expenditures were held at 60 per cent for materials and 40 per cent for labor, "regarded as most satisfactory by engineers and auditors who have examined county highway maintenance and repair programs."

He said the need for materials was considerably in excess of income. Rusk said that by limiting new projects and new equipment, "we ordinarily can be assured of sufficient money in our balance to operate in a fairly satisfactory manner."

"However, this is no longer true as the demands on this county are far in excess of income," he said. "The need for materials on road surfaces and bridge replacements are costing more than all funds available Unless income is in excess of that anticipated, we will be forced to operate a part of each year on projects that do not require materials or supplies, and resurfacing and bridge repairing will be neglected.

'PROBLEM SERIOUS'

"During the first six months of 1946, purchase orders alone totaled $274,000, the budget was $326,000 for the year The situation in our county as well as comparable subdivisions in Ohio, is very similar. Please give this matter your best attention as the problem is very serious"

In presenting the letter, Rusk pointed out that roads are not built through real estate tax levies He also urged that the matter be brought before representatives and senators in the state legislature, as considerably more money goes out of Richland county than is returned by the state and federal governments.

Rusk said many engineers have been attempting to do the same thing in their counties, as they are having the same problem. "We hope to awaken the state legislature to the fact that county highway systems have been neglected," Rusk said.

County commissioners said they would bring the matter before representatives and senators.

Relocation Data Asked By Farmers

Hearing on Route 13 Continued By Court

Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer yesterday continued a preliminary hearing on appeals filed by owners of land to be used in relocating State Route 13 around Mansfield airport.

The appeals were filed from the compensation and damages allowed by the county commissioners.

The hearing was continued when the four landowners asked that additional information be supplied by the county engineer as to damages that may result from the building of the road.

Arthur and Nellie Krueger sought information on a stream on their farm since its course will be changed.

Fred and George Brubach said they wanted to know how far from the highway their slaughterhouse would have to be moved to comply with health department regulations.

Raymond and Martha Estep and James A. Frey asked information on how much additional water would go on their lands as a result of the new road.

Roy H Ferguson sought data on how far the road slope would come on his property, which possibly might require moving of a house

Purpose of the new information is to determine the damages to property owners in dollars and cents.

Radical change may be inevitable, with new contacts and commitments, at once embracing sudden adventure as well as thrilling romance. Dare to be original, different.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is need not be surprised should a sudden switch in the tides of destiny toss to breath-taking crests of high adventure, thrilling romance or some sort of dramatic mark of public recognition, preferment or surprising distinction or favor from unlooked-for sources. A brilliant idea, quite out of the routine or beaten track, a stroke of genius, a startling discovery, an audacious move, could prove spectacular, heart warming and keenly felt emotionally. Radical change all along the line, fresh starts, dynamic moves and soul stirring romantic experiences are in order.

A child born on this day is bounteously endowed with skill, ingenuity, originality and audacity of thinking as well as behavior, landing it happily in the public eye, in spectacular career.

Mail Box Instructions On East Mounted Route

Residents of the eastern section of the new mounted carrier route which will be inaugurated by the Mansfield post office this Friday, July 16, will note that mail boxes for the streets to be served by this route must be placed as follows:

PULVER-LIST ROAD, between Wooster road and Ashland road, boxes must be on east side of street.
ASHLAND ROAD, between Pulver-List road and Grace street, boxes on south side of street.
CONNOR DRIVE, between Ashland road and Forest, boxes on east side of street.
FOREST, between Connor drive and Acker drive, boxes on south side of street.
ACKER DRIVE, between Forest and Ashland road, boxes on west side of street.
ASHLAND ROAD, between Acker drive and Indiana avenue, boxes on South side of street.
INDIANA AVENUE, between Ashland road and City View drive, boxes on west side of street.
CITY VIEW DRIVE, between Indiana avenue and Michigan avenue, boxes on south side of street.
MICHIGAN AVENUE, between City View drive and Ashland road, boxes on east side of street.
ASHLAND ROAD, between Michigan and Kentucky avenues, boxes on south side of street.
ASHLAND ROAD, between Kentucky and Parry, boxes may be on either side of street.
KENTUCKY AVENUE, between Ashland road and Grace street, boxes on west side of street.
GRACE STREET, between Kentucky and Parry, boxes may be on either side of street.
GRACE STREET, between Kentucky and Ashland road, boxes must be on north side of street.
ASHLAND ROAD, from Grace street to Rocky River bridge, boxes must be on north side of Ashland road.

Residents of those sections of Vonhof boulevard, Abbott drive, Forest street west of Connor drive, Forest street east of Acker drive, and Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Kentucky avenues north of Ashland road for which specific instructions are not given above should leave their mail boxes in their present locations until further notice. The same applies to Kentucky avenue between Grace street and City View drive, and that part of Pennsylvania avenue south of Ashland road.

Mail boxes which must be relocated should not be moved until after mail is received Thursday, July 15. The boxes moved should be in the new location in time to receive delivery of mail on Friday, July 16.

Mail boxes must be at the curb in front of homes to be served, and must be on the carrier's line of travel. Name, street and house number should be placed on each box in such position as to be visible to the carrier as he approaches on his line of travel.

Please include the words "MOUNTED ROUTE" as part of your address, and advise your correspondents of your correct address as of the effective date given above (July 16, 1948).

FIRE DESTROYS MILL

HILLSBORO — (U.P.) — Fire of undetermined origin Monday destroyed a feed mill and its entire contents at nearby Dodsonville with damage estimated at $12,000.

GOODBYE CAR

ROCHESTER, N. H. —(U.P.)— Fined $73 in municipal court for driving an unregistered automobile, Ramond Beaulieu sold his car to raise money to pay the fine.

Auto Costs Mount Rapidly As Speed of Car Increases

You may save time by driving fast, but you pay heavily for that time saved.

Actual car operating costs increase from approximately 2½ cents to about 6 cents per mile when speeds are increased from 35 to 65 miles an hour, according to Jack R. Berger, secretary of the Richland County Automobile club.

On a 1,000-mile trip, the average car, driven over average roads at the higher speed, consumes four and a half times more oil and almost twice as much gasoline as it does at a speed of 35 miles per hour. Tire wear and repair costs are tripled.

While it is possible to save more than 13 hours driving time over a 1,000-mile stretch at the higher speed, those 13 hours cost the driver $32. This is nearly $2.50 for each hour saved by fast driving.

So, driving at a moderate speed is not only a good way to avoid accidents, but also a way to save money.

Piano Tuner Gives $102,000 to 'Y'

WAUKESHA, Wis — (U.P.) — A man who for nearly 25 years kept Waukesha's pianos tuned is helping make possible the city's proposed $500,000 YMCA building.

Walter L. Rankin died in 1941. He was well known as a piano tuner, having taken care of most of the city's pianos for a quarter of a century.

It has just been disclosed that his will left a bequest for $102,000 to the YMCA for its building fund.

Dean Named OSU Vice President

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — Ohio State university announced the appointment Monday of Dr. Harlan H Hatcher as university vice-president in charge of faculty and instruction.

Dr. Hatcher, a member of the Ohio State faculty since 1922 and dean of the college of arts and sciences since 1944, succeeds Harvey H. Davis. Davis will leave Ohio State university at the end of the summer term for the University of Iowa, where he will assume two deanships.

U. S. Rushes Airport Job In Berlin

Strip Will Boost Plane Facilities

BERLIN — (U.P.) — American troops worked swiftly today on construction of a new air strip here to aid in defeating the Russian surface blockade of Berlin which the Western powers already are hurdling in the greatest peacetime aerial supply effort in history.

Work on the new air strip, which will be amply long enough to handle B-29 Superfortresses and which will increase the capacity of Templehof airdrome in the United States sector of the city by about one-third, began last Thursday, it was learned.

Since then shifts of German workmen, directed by more than 100 American soldiers and officers, have worked around the clock on it. The strip is being built of brick and remelted asphalt from the ruins of Berlin. It will be 140 feet wide.

Officials said the new strip would be ready in six weeks or less, and will greatly help the aerial supply effort if it is necessary to continue it.

British Hold Up Payment

LONDON — (U.P.) — Great Britain yesterday delayed her regular quarterly subsidy payment of 500,000 pounds (about $2,000,000) to Trans-Jordan because of the "obscure situation" in Palestine.

The subsidy is used principally to maintain the British-trained and British-officered Arab legion, which admittedly is the most powerful Arab force in Palestine fighting.

A foreign office spokesman indicated that further discussion would be necessary before it would be decided whether to continue to pay the subsidy to King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan

The announcement was taken as indicating Britain's determination to bring increasing pressure on the Arabs for a peaceful settlement in the Holy Land.

TB Hospital Released

County commissioners have released the building housing the present Richland county TB sanatorium on Lexington avenue. The new lease is effective July 21.

The county leases the building from Barbara J. Nichols, administratrix of the estate of T. Amos Jones.

The lease is effective until the new sanatorium is ready for occupancy. It calls for a rental of $6,000 a year, payable in monthly installments.

MADMAN CAPTURED

EAST LANSING, Mich. —(U.P.) —An insane killer escaped from a state reformatory yesterday, stole an automobile and terrorized highway traffic during a wild chase with Michigan state police. The escaper, James Kennen, 21, Midland, was captured after he crashed the stolen car into a tree.

WCTU, Lakeside Both 75 Years Old; Mark Joint Anniversary

COLUMBUS, —(AP)— The Ohio WCTU called on its members yesterday to make use of the ballot as well as prayer in a new temperance crusade.

Miss Mary B. Ervin, president, said women who founded the temperance crusade in Hillsboro, O., 75 years ago relied on prayer.

"Their faith worked wonders," she said. "By prayer alone they reduced the number of open saloons in Hillsboro from 13 to two, plus one drug store and a hotel."

"WCTU women of today," she added, "have two additional powerful weapons — a well knit organization and the ballot."

Miss Ervin stressed use of the ballot in announcing that the Ohio WCTU will hold an ogamization workshop at Lakeside on Lake Erie July 15-17.

"It is a delightful coincidence," she said, "that this diamond jubilee crusade year is also the 75th anniversary of the founding of Lakeside, which has developed into a popular, Christian, temperance assembly grounds for youth and adults. 'No liquor for Lakeside' was the slogan of the founders of that educational center as incorporated in their charter."

"The spirit of our temperance forefathers and crusade mothers," Miss Ervin said, "will be reflected in our WCTU program of activities throughout this historic year including the circulation of petitions over the state demanding the legislature to pass a county option bill at the next general assembly."

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin of Evanston, Ill., president of the national WCTU, will speak July 16 at Lakeside. She will review the progress of temperance throughout the nation

Lawn Fete To Aid Church Building Fund

A lawn fete and social will be held on the Lucas school lawn Saturday night for the benefit of the Mt Zion church building fund, Mrs Carl Culler, chairman, said today.

Serving will start at 5 30 p. m. and the supper menu will consist of chicken sandwiches, homemade ice cream, coffee and soft drinks.

The social will be sponsored by members of the Mt. Zion Young People's Study club. Other committee members will include Mrs. Esther Mowry and Mrs. Paul Blust.

Plans already have been drawn for the rebuilding of the Mt. Zion church, which was destroyed by fire last winter. The new church will be build on the same location opposite the Mt. Zion cemetery, northeast of Lucas. Plans will follow pretty closely that for the old building except for being modernized to fit current needs, officials said.

In case of rain, the social will be held in the school auditorium.

Keynoter Barkley Calls Dem Achievements 'Unparalled'

Claims GOP Sabotaged Liberalism

Speaker Flays Work of Congress

PHILADELPHIA— (U.P.) —The voters' choice in this presidential year, as Sen. Alben W Barkley sees it, lies between "unparalleled achievement" by the Democrats and "sabotage" by the Republicans.

In a trumpeting keynote address to the Democratic National convention last night, the 70-year-old Kentuckian read the record of the 16 New Deal years and of the young, Republican-controlled 80th Congress

The Democrats, he claimed, have behind them a "consistent, constructive and farsighted record of devotion to the people's welfare."

The Republicans, Barkley said have only a "record of attempted sabotage of some of the greatest programs ever inaugurated by the American government"

A Republican victory in November, he added, would jeopardize U. S efforts to curb communism and preserve peace He accused the GOP of

1 Being dominated by the Pennsylvania political machine headed by Joseph R Grundy of high tariff fame

2. Attracting to Washington a record-breaking swarm of lobbyists for special interests

3 Imitating the New Deal in their platform while trying to wreck its reforms in Congress and refusing to pass inflation curbs and needed social legislation

4 Trying in the House to cripple the European recovery program

5. Seeking to substitute for government of, by and for all the people a government of, by and for only "the best people"

SUMMARIZES RECORD

Barkley summarized the Democratic record of the past 16 years this way

Recovery The New Deal adminsitration of e late President Roosevelt "breathed into the nostrils of every worthy American enterprise — a breath of new life, new hope, and new determination."

Agriculture Sponsored programs which increased farm income by 800 per cent, reduced farm mortgage indebtedness more than 50 per cent and through rural electrification brought cheap power to millions of farmers

Resources: Through the Tennessee Valley authority and other development programs made natural resources the servants of the public rather than the objects of private exploitation"

Labor: Produced the Wagner labor relations act and the fair labor standards (wage-hour) act

Foreign Trade: Established the reciprocal trade program for increasing the markets of U. S capital and labor "throughout the world"

Banks. Set up the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, which reduced bank failures from 4,004 in 1933 to six in 1947

Homes Built thousands of homes under a Federal Housing administration, and through the Home Owners Loan corporation, reduced real estate foreclosures from 252,000 in 1933 to 10,000 in 1947.

Hemispheric Relations: Substituted the good neighbor policy for Republican "dollar diplomacy" and "selfish exploitation"

Employment Now more than 61 000 000 employed as compared to 15 000,000 unemployed 16 years ago

Profits U S corporations in 1947 made a record-breaking $17,-000,000,000 after taxes

National income Rose from $38,000 000 000 16 years ago to $210 000,000,000

Prosperity Multi-billion-dollar increases in security issues sales, exports, and savings and reduction of the national dept in little more than two years by more than $27,000 000 000

Of the 80th Congress, Barkley said "the people did not really mean to elect" it He said they were voting against irksome and irritating" restrictions made necessary by war

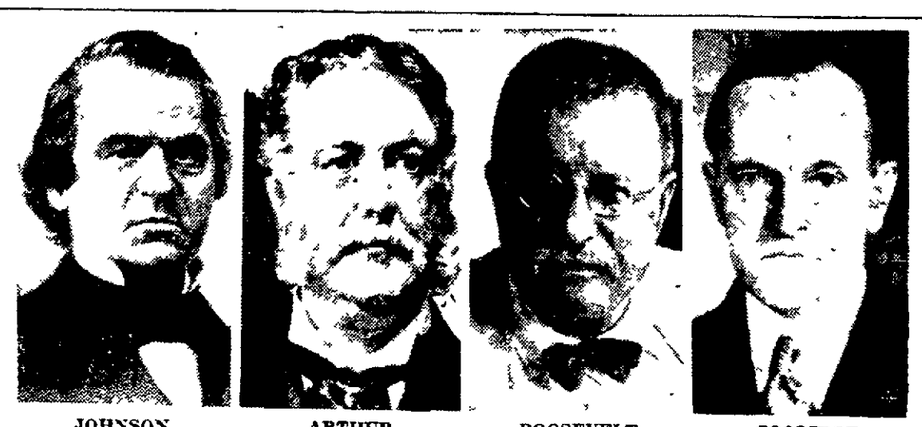
Navy Reserve Seeks Nurses

The Mansfield U S Navy recruiting station today urged registered nurses to become members of the organized reserve

Nurses are offered the rank of ensign through lieutenant, senior grade, based on their age and qualifications

Reserve nurses can be called to active duty only with their permission except in time of war or national emergency They may request active duty in a Naval hospital for either two weeks or an indefinite period with full pay and allowances

Further information may be obtained in the Mansfield U S Navy recruiting station Room 1 second floor of the post office



JOHNSON ARTHUR ROOSEVELT COOLIDGE

★ ★ ★

Sometimes 'Second Fiddles' Take Lead

Truman Is 7th 'Back Door' President

Harry S Truman is one of seven vice-president who stepped into the White House on a President's death Of the six others, four merely filled out their part terms in office The two who went on to serve an additional term on their own were the most recent in history

The six were John Tyler Millard Fillmore, Andrew Johnson, Chester A Arthur Theodore Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge

Tyler became President in 1841, when William Henry Harrison died after having been President only a month Tylers tenure was marked by constant bickering with Congress, and while he was renominated by an irregular Democratic convention in May, 1844, he withdrew from the race the following August

Fillmore, who went into the White House in 1850 when Zachary Taylor died was turned down for the nomination by the Whigs in 1852 Four years later the Know-Nothing Party named him and the Whig Party endorsed him He carried only one state Maryland

JOHNSON UNFORTUNATE

Andrew Johnson was perhaps least fortunate of all He became chief executive when Lincoln was assassinated in 1865, and resulting feuds with Congress led to House impeachment proceedings against him He was acquitted but in 1868 his party denied him renomination

Arthur succeeded the assassinated James A Garfield in 1881 and historians now credit him with having done an able job But when he tried for the Republican nomination in 1884 he was passed over for James G Blaine

Theodore Roosevelt did better. He served three and a half years after President McKinley was shot in 1901, and then was renominated and re-elected for four years on his own in 1908.

In 1912 he tried for the Republican nomination, and when he failed he started his own Bull Moose party and ran for the office. He was unsuccessful, however.

Coolidge served out Warren G Harding's term when the latter died in 1923, was renominated and re-elected in 1924 and was considered a possibility for nomination again in 1928 when he issued his "I do not choose to run" statement

Truman served as vice-president less than three months when Franklin D Roosevelt died in his fourth presidential term in April, 1945.

Erie delivers the goods... and pays taxes for progress in your community

IN ADDITION to contributing to the support of government, railroad taxes help to build and maintain your local schools, streets, highways, hospitals and many other institutions in Erie communities.

Last year the Erie Railroad's tax bill was $14,005,794. This tax money helps educate your children, helps provide better government, and aids progress in your community.

And the Erie helps its communities in other ways—by attracting new industries which create jobs, by providing dependable railroad services needed by local business to prosper and grow.

In every way possible through progressive railroading and the use of modern methods, the Erie will continue to contribute to local progress.

No. 4 Fire Station Bids $20,000 Over Appropriation

$74,648 Set As Cost of Newman Job

Additional Fund Vote Sighted

The combination of lowest bids opened at noon today for the construction of a new No. 4 fire station at 411 Newman street totaled $74,648, approximately $20,000 more than city council has appropriated for the work.

The lowest bid for general construction was submitted by Frank Beymer, who offered to build the fire station for $61,260 with options that would raise the price no more than $1,345 nor lower it more than $365. Other general construction bids came from Jacob Wolf who bid $67,861, with certain options and Ludwig Zahn who bid $65,669, with minor options.

Three bids for electrical work were received, the lowest coming from the A. T. Emmett company, Port Clinton, which quoted a price of $2,353. Buckman's Electrical Construction bid $2,366 and The Richland Electric company bid $2,684.

Only two firms bid on the plumbing and heating work, the lower bid coming from the Mansfield Plumbing and Heating company which quoted a price of $11,035. Charles Hoffman bid $12,731.

There is $50,000 in the general fund appropriated for the No. 4 station and about $4,000 available from fire levy money for the work. Council will have to appropriate about $20,000 more to meet the combination of lowest bids.

Bids were asked last year for the No. 4 station at which time the combination of bids was just above $70,000.

Bids for water works pipe and fitting were received from James B. Clow and Sons, and U. S. Pipe and Foundry company, both of Chicago.

Three companies, the American Standard and Sanitary Radiator company, the Hughes Supply company and the Hardware and Supply company of Akron bid to supply the city with copper tubings. Low bidders on the two aforementioned items will not be known until the bids are analyzed.

Record County Budget OK'd

County commissioners yesterday afternoon approved a record budget of $1,212,000 for operating government departments in 1949. The requests total $7,222 more than was appropriated for running the county government in 1948.

Of the total county budget, $619,732 was for the general fund, which makes up the county's operating funds. This year's appropriation for that fund came to $620,778.

College Receives $3,000,000 Gift

AMHERST, Mass. —(U.P.)— The University of Massachusetts, state-owned and operated, will have almost $3,000,000 worth of new building by 1969, and all for nothing.

The gift will come from the Alumni Building Corporation, a private concern organized by university graduates, which has built or is planning to build $2,859,600 worth of buildings on the school's 700-acre main campus.

Stomach Distress Is Gone After Ten Years of Suffering

One man recently stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen with gas and terribly constipated. Recently he started taking INNER-AID and says the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the second day. Bowels are regular now, gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

INNER-AID is the new formula of 12 Juices from Nature's Plants. It has relieved many people who had never been really helped before by any medicine. Taken shortly before meals it mixes with your food, thus eliminating the poisons that foster stomach trouble. It will cleanse, enliven, liver and remove old bile from the system. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores.—Adv.

$35,000 More In Road Fund

County commissioners have authorized three supplemental appropriations for the county engineering department. These include $24,000 for materials for roads, $10,000 for contracts for roads, and $1,000 for contracts for bridges.

County Engineer Walter E. Rusk requested the appropriation from the cash balance of the engineering department. He said the funds were required to carry out the road program for the balance of the year.

Vet Rent Collector Paid $300 By County

County commissioners have authorized transfer of $300 for the year from the veterans housing fund to the general found for the paying of $25 per month to Philip Wolfe, clerk of the board of county commissioners.

Wolfe receives that sum from the veterans housing fund for administering the program collecting rents and arranging for repairs. The transfer was required since salaries are paid out of the general fund.

Day's Taxes Set Record

The Richland county treasurer's office had a big day yesterday —the biggest since the collection of second half real estate taxes started.

Treasurer Charles C. Payne reported a collection of $61,317. The collection has nearly reached the half-way mark.

Total collections come to $500,697 out of the total of $1,012,000 due by next Tuesday. Payne said the office would be open Saturday to 4 p. m. to accommodate taxpayers. He urged payments by mail.

Two Firemen Out For Weeks

James Peck, 132 South Franklin avenue, and Roy Reeder, 271 East Arch street, Mansfield firemen injured in the bomb explosion at the Crescent cafe on July 5, were recuperating at their homes today and according to their wives, "getting along nicely."

Neither, however, expects to be back on the job for several weeks. Both were dismissed from General hospital last Friday.

Peck suffered severe cuts and bruises on his head and face and Reeder sustained head and left-hand injuries.

Meanwhile, Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab said "tips" on the bombing are still coming in and that all of them are being checked, no matter how seemingly far-fetched.

"We have not run out of clues," he added.
